

Truman Tosses Army Epithets At His Critics

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
Washington, Feb. 23 (AP)—Critics of his administration had personal and blunt notice today from President Truman that no "S. O. B." is going to influence his appointments.

CHURCHMEN SHOCKED
New York, Feb. 23 (AP)—The president of the International council of Christian Churches said today that President Truman's language at a dinner in Washington last night was "an offense against Christian people."

The Rev. Carl McIntyre, president of the council, called on the president to "apologize to the American people" in a telegram sent to the White House.

Some 200 persons — members of the Reserve Officers association and their wives—heard Mr. Truman deliver that startling proclamation in an earthy, matter-of-fact, impromptu talk last night at a dinner honoring Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, his military aide.

The diners were brought to sharp attention as Mr. Truman departed from his home, neighborly style and turned to artillery language:

"Now, I am just as fond and just as loyal to my military aide as I am to the high brass, and I want you to distinctly understand that any S. O. B. who thinks he can cause any of those people to be discharged by me, by some smart aleck statement over the air or in the paper, he has got another thing coming."

"No commentator or columnist names any members of my cabinet, or my staff. I name them myself, and when it is time for them to be moved on, I do the moving,—nobody else."

The official transcript of Mr. Truman's off-the-cuff talk, released later by the White House, omitted any reference to the term, "S. O. B." Mr. Truman used only the initials, without spelling out what they stand for.

Takes Down Names
Drew Pearson, radio commentator and columnist, has criticized Vaughan for accepting a decoration from President Peron of Argentina.

He stood outside the Argentine embassy the night the medal was presented, taking down the names of those attending.

Afterward, Pearson said that while this country is spending billions abroad to help democracy, and "while President Truman has spoken thousands of words about

Less than 15 hours before a commercial airliner was scheduled to take her to Boston to fill a stage engagement, the tiny screen heroine had stood with tears streaming down her cheeks as her widowed mother, Mrs. Gladys O'Brien exchanged wedding vows with Sylvio in a brief civil ceremony here.

After the ceremony, Margaret refused to kiss her new husband for photographers.

Margaret wore a flouncy white taffeta dress given her by nuns in Rome and a quaker-type sunbonnet hat of navy blue with long streamers. She carried a tiny handbag.

Mrs. O'Brien, whose first husband died two months before Margaret was born 12 years ago, wore a white embroidered dress of salina—a new fabric of linen and rayon. The attendants wore dresses of the same material, of pastel blue and pink. Sylvio wore a dark blue business suit.

Revolt Plot Bared; 28 Czech Generals Accused At Prague

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Feb. 23 (AP)—At least 28 generals of the Czechoslovak army were engaged in a plot to overthrow the government, it was stated here today.

The statement of General Alois Hlozek, made in parliament yesterday during discussion of a bill for a new purge of suspected reserve officers, appeared in the newspaper Lidove Noviny.

It quoted Hlozek, who is a Communist party deputy in parliament, as saying, "it is necessary to tell the whole nation that the eastern Czechoslovak army (formed in Russia) fought not only against Hitler armies but had to fight against its own ministry of national defense and the so-called headquarters in London during the war."

Hlozek said that the headquarters of the London-government-in-exile "was during the whole war in the hands of the enemies of the people, progress and Socialism, headed by former General (Sergei) Ingr."

Church Influence Throttled Behind The Iron Curtain

By LYNN HEINZERLING
Geneva, Switzerland, Feb. 23 (AP)—The throttling of church influence in the iron curtain countries is moving with the precision of a time-table, western church officials here said today.

Some churchmen who have maintained contacts in eastern Europe say the whole pattern is so rigid, carefully planned and executed it appears to have been dictated by a central authority, possibly the Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau).

They say the whole structure of church and religious life in Eastern Europe is being altered by Communist pressure.

The life sentencing of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary and the forthcoming trial of 15 Protestant leaders of Bulgaria are only the headline developments in this burrowing into the foundations of established religious life, according to these informants.

Churchmen in this international vantage point say hundreds of church officials and pastors are either in prison or living in enforced retirement. Christian schools are being forced under state sponsorship. Non-Marxist youth movements are being dissolved, relationships with foreign churches or religious organizations broken abruptly.

All this is being done under the guise of action against "espionage" and "reactionary" centers.

The process is most advanced in Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria. But it is not far behind in Poland and Czechoslovakia. A start was made in Yugoslavia, but the campaign appears to have been blunted. Whether this was due to Marshal Tito's rupture with the Cominform or to the unending attitude of the Serbian Orthodox church is uncertain. The Communists also have made little progress against the Lutheran church in Finland.

Mother Of Child Actress Marries Band Leader

By JAMES F. FOWLER
Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 23 (AP)—Child movie star Margaret O'Brien returns to the theater world of make believe today after figuring in a real life drama in which her mother was married to orchestra leader Don Sylvio.

Less than 15 hours before a commercial airliner was scheduled to take her to Boston to fill a stage engagement, the tiny screen heroine had stood with tears streaming down her cheeks as her widowed mother, Mrs. Gladys O'Brien exchanged wedding vows with Sylvio in a brief civil ceremony here.

Michigan Legislators Split On Tax Revision

Lost Lool Of Lima Reported Located

Pirate Booty Believed Worth 500 Million

By GRAHAM BERRY
Los Angeles, Feb. 23 (AP)—Searchers believe they have located the position of the fabulous "Lost Lool of Lima," pirate booty estimated to be worth $500,000,000. It supposedly is buried under the shore of Tico Cocos Island off the West Coast of Costa Rica.

Ellis Patterson, who sailed from here Jan. 21 with the 44th expedition to search for the pirate gold, returned by plane last night to report:

James A. Forbes, IV, claims that with the aid of metal detectors, he has located the treasure under the beach and at the mouth of a stream on the small island.

"At any rate," said Patterson, former lieutenant governor of California, "the machine showed a deposit of metal underground."

He said it was near the spot where bits of old sail canvas were found in Forbes' last previous unfruitful expedition. This is Forbes' fifth quest for the loot which he maintains is located on maps left by his great grandfather, James Alexander Forbes, I, an educated pirate.

The treasure, as recorded in Spanish archives, consists of solid gold statues and other art objects, relics of the Spanish conquest.

Forbes, IV, is a former baseball pitcher and superintendent of a fruit company at Riverside, Calif.

Patterson said 150 tons of excavating equipment carried aboard the remodeled landing craft, "Bohivar," should be unloaded on Cocos by next weekend and that soon afterward actual excavation should start. Previous estimates placed the treasure 32 feet deep.

Capital Punishment Bill Deferred To Tuesday In Lansing

Lansing, Feb. 23 (AP)—Debate on a bill to provide electrocution of first degree murderers in Michigan was officially scheduled in the House today, but the sponsor planned to ask that it be deferred to Tuesday.

Rep. Eugene C. Betz (R-Monroe) said he wanted to complete studies he was making, consolidate his backers and be assured of a full attendance in the House before a full-dress consideration.

The measure was reported by the Judiciary committee without recommendation yesterday.

Rep. Howard R. Carroll (R-Mt. Clemens) committee chairman, said the committee disapproved of capital punishment but felt the issue was of such importance that "members of the House should have an opportunity to consider it."

Port Huron School Robbers Eat Lunch And Then Rob Safe

Port Huron, Mich., Feb. 23 (AP)—Port junior high school found today it had been an unwitting luncheon host.

A trio of hungry safecrackers broke into the school cafeteria, fried and ate 10 eggs, a large quantity of bologna and two loaves of bread. They also drank eight pints of milk.

For dessert, they are a supply of gelatin found in the refrigerator.

The party over, they returned to business and lifted $15 dollars from a safe.

Three Senators From Every State Proposed

Topeka, Kas., Feb. 23 (AP)—A proposal to give each state three U. S. senators took a verbal spanking today from both Republican and Democrats.

But Sen. J. Howard McGrath (D-RI) who suggested the plan, said the opposition didn't "faze him. He's going to keep plugging the proposal."

McGrath, chairman of the Democratic National committee, said in a Washington Day address to Kansas Democrats he would present his proposal to Congress this session.

He said three senators instead of two would create a more efficient organization and speed legislative process.

Opposition rolled in almost immediately. Comments from Washington included these:

Senator Morse (R-Ore.): "It is obviously a suggestion without merit."

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.): "I would be more in favor of cutting it down to one senator per state."

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.): "I don't see how increasing the size the Senate would increase efficiency."

McGrath also contended his proposal would distribute the load now being handled by senatorial committees. Heavy work is placed on too few committees under the present setup, slowing progress, he said.

He also said two senators from the same state often take opposite views, but three senators would enable each state to be recorded on important issues.

Another factor would be a senatorial election every two years. McGrath said this would create a "healthy situation" and make political organizations more alert to the nation's wishes.

The fire started when an oil stove exploded. The children's father, Walter, and mother, Mildred, were at work. Robert, 14, herded the children to safety after breaking a window to get out. Three-year-old Le Roy was slightly burned but Rosemary, 10; Billy, 7; Ruth, 6, and Henry, 4, were unhurt. Then plucky Roberta crawled to a neighbor's house for help.

By today, things looked sunny for the girl and her family. Cash donations have totaled nearly $400. A Des Plaines group is starting a fund, now at nearly $500, which will help rebuild the destroyed home. Construction workers have offered labor and materials.

The father's employers, a trucking concern, have donated a temporary apartment in Chicago.

Painter Kills Wife And Self In Home Near Battle Creek

Battle Creek, Mich., Feb. 23 (AP)—Police reported that Clarence L. Downs, 49-year-old painter, shot his wife to death today and then killed himself with the gun.

Dr. Willard Putnam, coroner, ruled the case murder and suicide.

He said Downs shot his wife Winifred, 49, in the head with a 12-gauge shotgun and himself in the chest. The gun was found near their bodies in the kitchen of their home on the eastern outskirts of the city.

The couple's son-in-law, Robert Coy, came across the bodies as he returned to his apartment above the Downs home. He had taken the Downs' younger children, Bernice, 17, and Dorothy, 9, to school.

Coy and his wife told police the Downs had argued recently about business and lifted $15 dollars from a safe.

Bow Ties Appear; Governor Now 38

Lansing, Feb. 23 (AP)—The executive office's stenographers and many members of the Democratic legislative delegation appeared in bow ties today in observance of Governor Williams' 38th birthday.

Democrats Block Bill To Encourage School Construction

Lansing, Feb. 23 (AP)—Governor Williams today swung his support behind the position of Democratic House members on a proposed constitutional amendment to encourage school building.

The Democrats, insisting that all voters should be permitted to cast ballots on raising the 15 mill tax limitation, have twice blocked House approval of the proposal which limits voting to taxpayers.

"It is a matter of great regret to me," the governor said, "that the House majority by a margin of five votes defeated the amendment of Rep. Norma D. Edwards (D-Detroit)."

Miss Edwards sponsored the extension of voting to all electors.

"That the House defeated this amendment yesterday," Williams said, "indicates to me that the saving in school money is not really desired in some quarters unless it is accompanied by a denial of voting rights to those who own no real estate."

Big Saving Possible
The proposal would exempt taxes for financing school construction bonds from the 15 mill limitation. This provision was estimated to be likely to save schools $45,000,000 in bond interest.

The proposal also would permit raising of the 15 mill limitation on taxes for other purposes by a vote of property tax payers only.

"I am in accord with the basic purpose of the proposed constitutional amendment—to enable schools to get money more cheaply," Williams said. "It is certainly to be hoped that the House will yet adopt the substance of the measure offered by Rep. Edwards to make this estimated $45,000,000 saving really effective."

The two parties had their first real split of the session over the measure. Democrats blocked the necessary two-thirds vote on the proposal on the second try yesterday.

On the first attempt to get House approval last Thursday it drew a 50-43 vote with nine Republicans voting with all Democrats against it. In yesterday's try, the vote was 62-36 with all but two Republicans voting for it and all but three Democrats against. Two Democrats did not vote.

Deadline Extended
Today is close to the proponents' last chance, since Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., who extended his original deadline from last Friday, says he must have the proposal by today to get it on the spring ballot.

Most Democrats could not swallow the limitation of voting on raising the limitation to taxpayers. Twice they sponsored an unsuccessful amendment to extend the voting to all electors.

Republican leaders chided the Democrats for "making this a party issue."

Rep. Howard R. Carroll (R-Mt. Clemens), however, said the main issue was so important in holding down interest on school bonds that the Republicans should accept the Democratic amendment. The Democrats had said they would approve the measure if the voting restrictions were removed.

Cautious Bandits Rob Detroit Tavern

Detroit, Feb. 23 (AP)—Two bandits walked into John Sox Bar today and ordered drinks. When they had finished, they tied Sox hand and foot, robbed him of $440 and left.

They returned five minutes later, as Sox was struggling to free himself.

"Stay right where you are, Pal," one of them cautioned. The other nicked up a bar cloth and carefully wiped the glasses they had used.

"Mustn't leave fingerprints, you know," remarked one of the bandits as the pair departed a second time.

Cruiser Milwaukee, Loaned To Russians, Returns To America

Portsmouth, Eng., Feb. 23 (AP)—The cruiser Milwaukee, 7,000-ton American warship loaned to Russia in 1944, put in here for fuel today en route back to the United States.

The Milwaukee, renamed "Murmansk" by the Russians, carries a Soviet crew. The Italian peace treaty specified her return was to coincide with delivery to Russia of the 7,000-ton Italian cruiser Duca D'Aosta, one of the vessels now being sent to Soviet ports by Italy.

How To End Strikes Not Yet Decided

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Washington, Feb. 23. (AP)—The month-long hearings on a new labor law were scheduled to end today with the explosive issue of how to end strikes still very much of an unanswered question.

The administration wants to repeal the Taft-Hartley act, which has a provision for ending certain strikes with injunctions, and replace it with a modified Wagner act which has no such clause.

Much of the controversy during the long hearings before the Senate labor committee has centered about this point. Business wants to retain the Taft-Hartley "safeguards"; labor doesn't. Even party lines have split.

And regardless of what the committee finally decides, the fight will continue on the Senate floor and in the House.

One witness who already has warned that the nation may face another coal strike unless "the safeguards in the Taft-Hartley act are continued" was called back to testify today. He was Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers' association.

Another committee winding up public hearings today is the Senate finance committee, studying the House-approved reciprocal trade bill. And President Truman's request for a free hand in cutting tariffs faced some trouble in that committee.

There were several measures involving foreigners and foreign aid:

A hush-hush bill to let the United States reward aliens who help its spies abroad was set for swift approval by the House armed services committee. This group was expected to okay a bill granting residence in the U. S. to 100 foreigners a year—foreigners who have given valuable information to our agents.

New Orleans Police Hunt For Strangler

Virginia Millionaire, 55, Killed In Hotel Room

New Orleans, Feb. 23 (AP)—Police hunted through a city crammed with thousands of Mardi Gras visitors today for a vicious stranger who killed a Virginia millionaire in his French quarter hotel room.

A bellhop found the nude body of James A. Mahoney, 55, of Bristol, on the Virginia-Tennessee border, after a request that he be awakened early yesterday morning.

The wealthy victim had been brutally beaten on the face and head. A blood-soaked towel was knotted tightly around his broken neck.

Acting Detective Chief John J. Jackson said police are seeking for questioning a man described by "an informer as about six feet, with gray hair, ruddy complexion, and unusually broad shoulders."

He said the informer told of seeing Mahoney and the stocky stranger drinking together in the Monteleone hotel cocktail lounge.

The millionaire's wallet is missing and police had a report from a photographic supply store clerk that Mahoney had thumbed through a wad of $100 and $10 bills in making a purchase Monday. Police, however, found $1,400 in travelers' checks in the room.

Port Huron Woman, Paralyzed, Has Baby

Port Huron, Mich., Feb. 23 (AP)—A woman paralyzed by polio from the waist down is "doing fine" today after giving birth to a five-pound 10-ounce daughter. So is the baby.

The mother, Mrs. Kenneth Mel-drum, 31, of Anchorville, was stricken last November. She was confined for six weeks in an iron lung, which still stands by her bedside for emergency use.

Mrs. Meldrum, wife of a factory foreman, has four other children.

MARYLAND THUNDERSTORM
Baltimore, Feb. 23 (AP)—It wasn't a midsummer night's dream. A thunderstorm hit Maryland last night, followed by a drenching downpour.

As with much of the east coast, the state has been experiencing the mildest winter in years.

Bureau Will Be Represented At Two Travel Shows

The Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, with the financial cooperation of Chambers of Commerce and resorts in the area, will present the region's vacation appeal at two travel shows in Chicago and Detroit this spring.

Exhibits will be set up at the Chicago Daily News Travel Show to be held in the Stevens Hotel for six days, April 19 to 25, and at the Detroit News travel show in Detroit May 4 to 8 inclusive.

The exhibit will be strictly an Upper Peninsula exhibit where U. P. communities, resorts and other establishments interested in the tourist trade will have an opportunity to have their literature distributed and to send their own representatives to work for their own communities and resorts.

The Development Bureau will obtain the names of all persons registering at the two shows who desire general vacation information about the Peninsula. All such general requests for vacation information will be referred to Development Bureau members through its bulletin service.

Any community or resort desiring to have its literature distributed at either or both shows is asked to write the Development Bureau's office in Marquette.

Marquette, which is holding a Centennial celebration and homecoming July 2-3-4, will be represented at the Chicago Daily News Travel Show by Miss Alice West, the city's "Centennial Queen," who also is "Miss Straits of Mackinac." She is being sent to Chicago by the Marquette Lions Club.

Girl, 7, Wins House Valued At $20,000 At Detroit Show

Detroit, Mich., (P)—The seven-year old daughter of a brewery employee looked forward to her first visit to her new $20,000 possession—Detroit's 1949 ideal home.

Marilyn Froehlich, blue-eyed second grade pupil, won the home in a drawing at the Detroit Builders show. It is a modern, frame ranch-style house on Eight Mile road.

Marilyn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Froehlich, had gone to see the home on two occasions but long lines of visitors caused them to confine their inspection to the outside. But Monday Froehlich planned to knock off work to look it over thoroughly.

Froehlich said the family would occupy the model home. His only worry was the income tax he'll have to pay.

TRUCKS HOUSE TO THE SOUTH

Norway Man Arrives In St. Petersburg, Fla.

Iron Mountain—Here is the most unique human-interest story of the week!

It came in a letter from Clarence St. Vincent, of Norway, who is now—or was when he wrote the letter—in St. Petersburg, Florida, safely and comfortably situated in a new log cabin home which he trucked all the way from Norway to Florida.

St. Vincent is the Norway young man who for several years past—or ever since an accident which he suffered while swimming—has worn an iron brace to support a broken neck. Despite this handicap, he manages his own successful business in Norway, the building of prefabricated log-cabin houses—for which he reports a brisk demand.

And his was a log-cabin house which he brought with him, in sections, to Florida—thereby solving the housing problem in his own effective way.

Travels In Trailer

St. Vincent travels in his own trailer. Accompanying him on the trip to Florida was a heavy truck, carrying the sectional log-cabin, and a skilled carpenter to assemble the various parts on the lot which St. Vincent had purchased in St. Petersburg. Four days were required for the trip from Norway to Florida. The work of building the foundation for the new house was started on a Monday, and by the following Monday the blocks were laid and the floor and joists were ready for the wall sections. Shortly thereafter the walls were up, the roof was on, and St. Vincent moved from his trailer to his new home.

All-Color Travel Movie Boosts U.P. As Vacation Land

"Touring Glorious Michigan," an all-color motion picture being presented by Dennis Glen Cooper, is showing to thousands of persons in Lower Michigan and other states the scenic beauty and special interest for visitors to the Upper Peninsula.

Cooper, who has appeared before some of the most important audiences in America, spent three summers producing the most complete and beautiful film on Michigan ever made. "Touring Glorious Michigan" has action, variety, pace, human interest, humor and considerable factual information on Michigan as a favorite holiday state.

Presented by Cooper recently to a capacity World Adventure Series in the Detroit Institute of Arts, the picture drew spontaneous applause and praise for its presentation of the state's principal highways and resorts, mountains, forests and rivers, public parks, wildlife, tumbling waterfalls, sailing, canoeing, the Lake Superior, Huron and Michigan coasts, Detroit area, historic Mackinac Island, busy Sault Ste. Marie locks, Isle Royale and much more.

Among other Upper Peninsula pictures included in the film are some of upper and lower Tahquamenon Falls, Munising, Pictured Rocks, Miner's Falls, Munising Falls, Marquette, Houghton, Brockway Mountain drive, Porcupine Mountains, Lake of the Clouds, "Big Spring" near Manistique, Blaney Park.

BRINGS HIS OWN

Norway (P)—Clarence St. Vincent, a local builder of prefabricated log cabin homes, heard about the housing shortage in Florida. So when he went to St. Petersburg recently he was accompanied by a truck—hauling one of his knocked-down homes for his own use.

MAE WEST SAYS SHE WAS FIRST

But Dr. Kinsey Cashes In On "Sex"

By ROBERT C. RUARK
New York—We have been up to see Miss Mae West, who claims she pioneered a field Dr. Kinsey cashed in on. Miss West tells us she has always been at least 20 years ahead of her time, and what she went to jail for, 20 years ago, Dr. Kinsey got famous with.

Not that Miss West, who was wearing a pink kimono and a blue hotel blanket round her knees, is jealous of Dr. Kinsey. She regards the widely publicized chronicle of the sexual frailties of the human male as a kind of youthful disciple.

"We are both in the same business," says Miss West, archly flicking her eyelashes. "Except I saw it first."

Miss West is working the town again with "Diamond Lil," a somewhat bawdy drama concerning bad ladies and their friends. "Diamond Lil" opened here 20 years ago, ran a couple of seasons, and transfused the theatrical arts in New York. When they dug it up again, recently, they scheduled it for a limited run, but business is so brisk it now threatens to fetch up in a photo finish with "Mr. Roberts."

This surprises Miss West no single solitary whit, since she has been plowing the same field for years, and finds sex a reasonably imperishable commodity. "Diamond Lil's" only concession to the modern age is half-a-dozen gags Mae salvaged from the pasteurized movie version of the play. The rest is pure, vintage West. For naked innuendo, nobody has yet been able to improve on her original lines.

They have settled on 57 as Miss West's official age, which I will not be boorish enough to dispute. But the lady looks early 40's, at

SAVE UP TO 30% ON MEAT!

That's right. Come in and let us show you how to save as much as 30% on individual cuts of meat with the unusual Maytag Home Freezer and the quantity buying it makes possible.

Save on fruits and vegetables, too—and avoid many tedious hours of shopping. You even save cooking time! Let us explain.

We also want to show you all the other wonderful conveniences the Maytag brings you. No other freezer has all its advantages. See, for example, how it's designed for use right in your kitchen—serving also as a kitchen work table. See how outstanding it is in every way—and how easy to pay for, with low monthly installments.

Its dependability is backed by the Maytag reputation and a five-year paid-up insurance policy against food loss. Not "just a freezer," but a Maytag. Come in today and see what a difference that makes!

worst. Her skin is still a child's hide, her figure is trim, and she wears no more chins than she owned in 1929. Her voice is demure, offstage, and bears no resemblance to the husky vocal leer of her dramatic voice. She is modestly indignant about the copycats who took her concept of sex and muddled it all up with profanity, in a strenuous effort to capitalize on her fame.

"The worst word I ever used in 'The Drag,' one of my plays I went to jail for, was 'lousy,'" said Miss West. "It was the first time 'lousy' ever was used on the stage. Then those people, trying to cash my precedent, started writing profane plays, and using nasty words like 'S-O-B.' Naturally they had to close them, and they couldn't leave me open when they closed up the other ones."

Miss West sighed. "My trouble," she said, "was always being ahead of the times. When I was starting out, the word 'sex' was only used two ways. 'The other sex' and 'the weaker sex.' It wasn't polite to give it my meaning. That Kinsey would have gone to jail, for sure."

It is estimated that some 15,000,000 Americans have some degree of hearing impairment, but only one-third or less need hearing aids.

SEEK INDUSTRY AT MENOMINEE

Want City Funds Used For Building

Menominee, Mich.—Use of the Jordan College-Menominee theater fund approximating $35,000, for construction of a factory building as an inducement to industry to locate here was recommended to city council. The recommendation was from the Twin City Industrial Labor Association, composed of members of Menominee and Marinette labor unions promoting the Twin City area for industry.

The recommendation was in a letter from Association Secretary George Paitl who told council several industrial prospects were under consideration but that no suitable factory space is available. Paitl suggested the money, which the city has invested in bonds, be used to construct a factory building for lease to an industry locating here.

Munising Man Dies Of Heart Attack, Accident Results

Munising—Walter E. Cramer, 66, of 614 West Superior, Munising, died of a heart attack yesterday as he was enroute from Munising to Gladstone with his daughter, Mrs. H. E. Jacobson, and his granddaughter, Karen.

In the excitement caused by his illness, Mrs. Jacobson who was driving lost control of the car and it overturned landing right side up again on its wheels. Mrs. Jacobson was uninjured but Karen received a severe head bruise.

The accident, investigated by Dr. O. S. Hult, Delta county coroner, and Michigan State Police, occurred on Forest Highway 13, six miles north of Nahma junction.

Mr. Cramer was born in Oshkosh March 7, 1882, and had lived in Munising for the past 29 years moving here from Neenah, Wis. He was employed as a paper maker for the Munising Paper company. He was a member of Eden Lutheran church of Munising.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Emma Cramer, three daughters, Mrs. Jacobson, Mrs. Clarence Peterson of Manitowish and Mrs. Frank Svelan of Rapid River; two brothers, Henry of Neenah and Albert of Chilton, Wis.; three sisters, Mrs. Henry Tipler, Mrs. Edwin Kiefer and Mrs. Henry Ber all of Neenah, and three grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Beaulieu funeral home where friends may call this evening. Services will be held at the funeral home at 1:30 Thursday, Rev. Herman Larson of Eden Lutheran church officiating, and the body will be taken to Neenah for burial in Oak Hill cemetery.

Charles Clement has returned from Excelsior Springs, Mo., where he spent two weeks.

John Graham has re-enlisted in the army and left Tuesday for Fort Riley, Kan., to report for duty.

Warring Sikhs Call For Separate State

New Delhi, India, (AP)—Agitation for the establishment of a separate nation for India's warlike Sikhs has flared anew. The government, which has seen a large section of this subcontinent set aside as the Moslem Dominion of Pakistan, has taken strong measures to resist the demand.

The militant leader of the Sikhs—Master Tara Singh—was jailed Sunday along with 31 others. A monster political demonstration scheduled here was banned. The government permitted 3000 Sikhs to hold a religious service however.

There are about 6,000,000 Sikhs in India, concentrated mostly in the East Punjab. They have a long tradition of military service and played a conspicuous role in the British Indian army.

YOU CAN ENJOY GOOD HEALTH

STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS, RHEUMATIC PAINS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS
and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids, Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

Drugless Health!
NO MATTER how long you have been suffering from stomach, kidney and rheumatic distress, and what drugs you have tried before, you can, now, hope for relief if you take GEO-MINERAL. With your eyes SEE the results seven days after you start taking it.

DRUGGISTS. Chemists cannot make GEO-MINERAL. It comes from the earth—Nature's laboratory. Contains NO dope, NO alcohol, NO oil, ONLY Nature's minerals—the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments.

Wonder Minerals
FOR THOUSANDS of years sufferers, on advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to get cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Mineral Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

WE HAVE all heard of the miraculous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thermen in ancient Greece, where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

IF YOU ARE a sufferer, and can not go to the mineral springs, try GEO-MINERAL which contains a blend of the same minerals that can be found at the world's best springs. The minerals in it may work miracles.

Amazing Results
WATCH your elimination from your bowels two or three days after you start using GEO-MINERAL. The waste, black as coal, will break away and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities—poisonous waste—coming out of your kidneys, and feel the relief. Be sure to watch for all this to realize its priceless value.

MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite when your eyes lack that bright spark and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

100% Guaranteed!
WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.

REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, GEO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need!

TRY it today! It may do wonders for you—and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

Student Bus Trip Rules Announced For Schools

Rules to end the chartering of buses by student groups for trips out of the city to high school games and other school events, and to bring student bus trips under the authority of school officials, have been adopted by the Escanaba board of education, it was announced today.

The bus trip regulations were adopted to safeguard the welfare of the students and to provide assurance to parents that students will be adequately chaperoned on out-of-town trips to school events.

The board of education requests bus companies not to charter buses for student trips except through the office of the school principal. Men chaperons will be selected by the school principal and assigned to each chartered bus. A fee of 25 cents will be charged each student to pay for the services of the chaperon. This fee will be collected by the bus company along with the fare.

Students must have the written permission of one of their parents to make a bus trip. In the permission form to be signed by the parent, the parent is advised that "the school is not urging a student to make this trip." In signing the permission slip the parent releases the school of responsibility for "any mishap which may arise on this trip."

The regulations governing student bus trips are as follows:

1. A list of names shall be provided the chaperons of all students who have received parental permission to make the trip. Students must be checked in before leaving Escanaba, and checked in before leaving for home after the game or activity is over. Any student not returning with the bus will be subject to discipline.
2. All buses will leave from the scene of the game or activity after the conclusion of the contest within a reasonable time as determined by the chaperon.
3. Smoking is prohibited on the bus.
4. No stop except in emergency shall be made by the bus going or returning.
5. Any person known to be drinking or carrying liquor on his person shall be suspended from the bus.

Wage Study Does Not Favor Electricians

A SUMMARY of wage and salary rates paid by the City of Escanaba in comparison with other cities indicates that with only a few exceptions Escanaba is treating its employees fairly. In most job classifications the City of Escanaba is paying at least as much as the average of other communities of comparable size. The city employees who are not being paid as much as the average of other cities are firemen, policemen, employees of the engineering department and supervisory personnel.

The summary reveals rather significantly that the city electrical department employees, who have served strike notice, are being paid more than electricians employed by other cities and about the same as electricians employed in private industry in this area. Certainly the summary does not justify the claim of the city electricians that they are entitled to a wage increase of 15c an hour.

Journemen linemen employed by the city are paid $1.40 an hour. Added benefits, such as paid vacation, sick leave, paid holidays, etc., bring this to $1.62 an hour. Private companies pay an average of $1.41 an hour for such employees and with added benefits the hourly rate figures at $1.62. Other cities in the Escanaba population group, however, are paying only $1.33 1/2 for journeymen linemen and $1.522 when added benefits are included.

Other job classifications in the electric department of the City of Escanaba fare equally well, according to the summary of wage data compiled at the request of the civil service commission.

On the other hand, Escanaba firemen are paid $195 per month, $214 with added benefits, compared with $227 for the average of 18 other cities, $251 with added benefits. Escanaba patrolmen are paid $205 per month, $231 with added benefits, compared with an average of $226 per month, $255 with added benefits paid by 22 other cities. The summary reveals similar disparagement in salaries paid to engineering department employees compared with rates of other cities.

In virtually all other job classifications, however, Escanaba employees are faring at least as well as comparable employees of other municipalities.

Traffic Racket Gets Hard Blow

ATTORNEY GENERAL Stephen Roth deserves a nice big round of applause from Michigan motorists and also, for that matter, from the thousands of outstate motorists who visit Michigan annually.

The attorney general ruled Tuesday that officers who make arrests for traffic law violations are not entitled to any fees and the magistrate who handles the case is entitled only to a $1.00 fee if the motorist pleads guilty and no trial is necessary.

We do not know by what authority the attorney general bases his opinion, but if the opinion can withstand legal attack, it means the end of speed traps and similar rackets in Michigan. Fortunately, this practice has not been as widespread in Michigan as it has been in many states but it is a curse that should be completely stamped out.

Good enforcement of traffic laws is essential for reduction of the appalling toll of motor accidents but racketeering by patrolmen and magistrates only breeds contempt for law and order. The attorney general's ruling provides a solid blow at a vicious practice.

Norway Joins Atlantic Alliance

NORWAY'S DECISION to join the Atlantic Alliance is based upon a realistic appraisal of the world peace situation as it actually is. In making this decision Norway rejected the Swedish appeal for a Scandinavian treaty based upon strict neutrality. Later Sweden and Denmark sought a compromise neutrality treaty under which the Scandinavian countries had hoped to secure military supplies from the United States but without any obligation to assist other nations to resist aggression.

The Atlantic Alliance will give Norway the combined military resources of the United States, Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg to supplement her own resources in resisting an unprovoked attack. The Norwegians have decided to accept this alliance rather than to accept an offer of Soviet Russia for a non-aggression treaty. The decision is not very flattering to the Soviets.

Foreign Minister Lange of Norway visited the United States recently for the purpose of consultations with American state department officials regarding the proposed Atlantic Alliance. Apparently he heard enough to convince him that Norway's safety cannot be protected through a policy of neutrality, such as Sweden has offered, nor by means of a non-aggression pact, such as Russia has offered. In deciding to join the Atlantic alliance, Norway is not worried about the future that is developing because the United States cannot make an advance commitment to go to war. Norway apparently is satisfied that the promise of the United States to provide aid is in good faith.

A Plan For Housing Action

WALTER REUTHER, president of the United Automobile Workers, would like to do something about the country's need for millions of houses and the millions of feet of idle floor space in the country's wartime aircraft plants. He thinks that the factory space might be used to advantage in turning out prefabricated houses on an assembly-line basis.

It is Mr. Reuther's contention that, in addition to providing still-scarce housing, his plan would employ a stand-by force of aircraft workers who would be available in case of national emergency.

The Reuther plan is opposed not only by builders' associations, but by some aircraft manufacturers. The latter argue, among other things, that both airplane machinery and personnel are so highly specialized as to be unadaptable to any other line of work.

But the fact remains that there is a need for houses. It might also be pointed out that the "Reuther plan" was put in operation even before he proposed it. The Lustron Corporation, which makes all-steel enameled prefabs, has taken over the vacant Curtiss-Wright plant in Columbus, O., and will be turning out 30 houses a day by the end of this month. Predicted production by the end of the year is 180 a day.

Since so little has been done in more than three years to ease the housing shortage, Mr. Reuther's proposal at least merits a careful, unprejudiced study. It is one of the few plans for really quick action to solve what has become a chronic emergency.

AMERICA'S NO. 1 ENEMY

Heart disease is the nation's leading cause of death. It takes more lives than the combined next five causes of death—cancer, accidents, nephritis, pneumonia, tuberculosis. In 1946—the last year for which complete figures are available—diseases of the heart and blood vessels took 588,000 lives. One out of every three deaths is due to these causes. One out of every 10 is said to suffer from these afflictions.

These stern facts explain why, for the first time, a campaign is being conducted both nationally and locally to raise funds to combat heart disease. More progress has been made in the last 25 years in discovering the causes of heart trouble and ways of relieving it than in all the rest of history. But much still remains to be done. Medical science still doesn't know what causes rheumatic fever, high blood pressure and hardening of the arteries—the three conditions which together are responsible for 90 per cent of all heart disease. Only continued research can promise to bring the answers.

Nationally the American Heart association is seeking in the 1949 Heart campaign to raise but $5,000,000, a pitifully small sum considering the amount of work to be done and the number of persons vitally concerned with seeing that it is done. Because this is a new campaign, no individual quotas have been set for Grand Rapids and other communities. But the more each community contributes, the more will it be helping itself and local sufferers from heart disease. Of the money raised locally in the campaign, 70 per cent will remain here for research and other heart needs. The rest will go to the national association to finance further research.

The drive has been going on since Feb. 7. It has until Feb. 28 to run. It badly needs whatever assistance the community can give it, both to guarantee success of this year's campaign and to give impetus to a continuing program to defeat America's No. 1 enemy.

NEW ALLIANCE IN CULTURE, TOO

Benefits of the new Western European union cannot all be measured in terms of security, though that phase has drawn most attention. One of the first meetings of representatives of the five signatory powers produced a plan for exchanging cultural and educational resources.

Teachers from the five countries will meet to develop discussonal and instructional school programs dealing with the other countries in the union and their mutual interests. Each country will prepare exhibits of educational material which will be sent on tour of the other countries. Lists of education films will be exchanged. Steps will be taken to facilitate and encourage interchange of students and educational trips for school children.

It all adds up to a real contribution to international and intercultural understanding that is most hopeful.

Sacramento: A headline states: "Fair Re-quests $2 million for Next Year." It looks as if something is wrong. "Doesn't it really say, 'dollars 2 million'?"—A. G. B.

Answer: In writing sums of money, the dollar mark is always placed ahead of the figures. In these days of tossing billions about like chicken feed, setting large round sums in figures is confusing and wasteful of space. For example, $65 billion is clear at once, while $65,000,000,000.00 is a stop-light. To be sure of the figure, you must start at the decimal point and pack up thus: units, tens, hundreds, thousands, tens of thousands, hundreds of thousands, millions,

Civilian Gov't Losing Ground

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—Ever since V-J day, a kind of cold war has gone on inside the government here in Washington between military and civilian. Over control and direction of rearmament and over occupation policy in Germany and Japan the skirmishes have been hottest.

This is, of course, putting it too simply. But nevertheless the general lines of the contest are fairly clear, and it is something new in American life.

The controversy over confirmation of Mon C. Wallgren, president Truman's good friend, to be chairman of the National Security Resources Board does not at first glance fit into the pattern of this contest. It is, however, as a skirmish in the war that certain of the president's closest advisers see the Wallgren row.

The first chairman of the newly created Security Resources Board was Arthur M. Hill, who resigned on Dec. 15. Hill, head of the Greyhound Bus company, was considered by some in the White House to be under the domination of Secretary of Defense James Forrestal.

Forrestal had proposed that Hill's office, as head of the new board, should be near his in the Pentagon. It was suspected that Forrestal wanted to make the NSRB, with its far-reaching assignment looking to the integration of industry and natural resources for national defense, into a side-show of the military.

WANTED INDEPENDENT Therefore when Hill resigned, after 15 months as chairman, the determination was to get a man for the job who would be independent of both military and big business control. As part of the process of freeing the board from the dominating influence of the Forrestal-Pentagon axis, the board's offices had been moved to the old state department building next door to the White House.

The president himself selected his friends, Wallgren, for the $14,000 chairmanship. They had served together on the Truman war investigating committee and, as Wallgren put it, his great and good friend was drafting him to do the same kind of searching inquiry in the present period that is neither peace nor war.

But, as Wallgren showed on the witness stand, he knows little about the organization of American industry either in war or in peace. In fact, it was difficult to discover what the former governor from the state of Washington did know.

Democratic senators expressing nervousness over Wallgren's qualifications and his performance in the all-important job are being reassured. The Bureau of the Budget so the White House line goes, will exercise close supervision over the work of the Security Resources Board. As chairman, Wallgren will be able to lean heavily on the able and efficiently staffed budget bureau.

While it may work out like that, this does not seem to me to be the best way to build up the civilian side of the government so that in the long tradition of this country civilians can continue to fix major policies. The alternative is not necessarily a pleasant politician with an undistinguished record in a succession of public offices.

SENATOR CAIN OPPOSED

There is little or no doubt that Wallgren will be confirmed. The chief opposition has come from Sen. Harry Cain of Washington, who frightens his Republican colleagues into nervous tremors because of his sometimes erratic course. The Democrats are sifting back smugly content to let Cain "blow off."

During his interrogation, Wallgren said that after all the job he was being considered for was only advisory. Technically that is true, although it is also true that recently the NSRB considered giving the chairmanship direct authority to make contracts and then decided against such a step.

Actually, the chairman makes recommendations for action—on stockpiling, the development of resources, and so on—to the president, who authorizes one of the executive departments to carry out the recommendation. In practice, of course, the chairman would be the only official to have all the information and it is unlikely that his recommendations would be challenged.

If in the present troubled state of the world, the civilian side of the government is to maintain its proper constitutional authority, it must show up in performance a lot better than in the Wallgren episode. Too often since the end of the war civilian authority has defaulted, leaving a vacuum that was necessarily filled by the military. Occupied Germany is a good example. No war was ever won with one side in apologetic retreat.

tens of millions, hundreds of millions, billions, tens of billions—sixty-five billion dollars.

For newspaper use especially, the form $65 billion is much to be preferred to the dazzling parade of figures and ciphers in $65,000,000,000.00.

A few weeks ago I gave the meanings of a number of surnames of well-known persons. Of Marlene Dietrich's surname I said, "Dietrich apparently means 'lock picker' or 'an instrument for picking locks.' At least that is the only definition given to the name Dietrich by my German dictionary."

Dr. Guy R. Vowles, of Davidson College, Davidson, N. C., tells me that Dietrich "is a proper name of long standing, etymologically the same as that of the East Gothic King Theodorich. Why it should have been degraded to 'skeleton key' I don't know. Other meanings given to Dietrich in the Muret-Sanders dictionary are 'pick-lock, betty, boss, charm, crow (-bar), jenny (jimmy)', 'rook, screw.' This association with the underworld in Germany goes farther back than the time of Martin Luther, perhaps to the 13th century."

Watch Out You Don't Bust Yourself, Mister

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

4-H SCHOOL—It was our privilege the other evening to meet a group of boys and girls and men and women who have one thing in common—to enrich the experience of rural youth of Delta county through the 4-H Club program.

That this is being done we have long been assured. Exhibits at the annual 4-H Achievement Day, and the better-than-best quality of 4-H displays at the U. P. State Fair, illustrate the careful and enthusiastic work of 4-H Club members.

Perhaps there are some people who will say: How can the interest of young people be held with a work program? The answer is not that accomplishment is paramount, but that accomplishment is pleasant. In addition to the rewards for achievement there are many opportunities for social contact otherwise denied the boy and girl from the country.

Through 4-H they enjoy games, dances, refreshments, programs and pleasures that appeal to boys and girls everywhere.

NOT ONLY LEARNING—

When we met these boys and girls and their leaders they were gathered in the court room at the court house in Escanaba. They were there for a purpose—to discuss and learn better methods of conducting 4-H Club meetings, keeping records, and making reports.

The "teachers" for the session with 4-H Club officers and leaders were Mel Nyquist, county 4-H agent; Miss Dorothy Erler, Marquette, assistant state club leader; Ed Edick, Escanaba senior high school principal, and yours truly. It was our job to meet with the club reporters and advise them on the way to write a news story of their club activities.

But it was not a dull session. It opened with games and closed with games, and there was hearty good humor all the way through.

ON REPORTING—For the benefit of all clubs and organizations seeking newspaper space, we might summarize some of our recommendations to the 4-H Club reporters.

1—Be sure your story includes the essential "who," "what," "when" and "where" factors. In the first paragraph if possible.

2—Your report should be received by the newspaper as soon as possible after a meeting. Old news is no news.

3—Names are important as news. When officers are elected or a committee appointed, name them. But spell the names correctly and give first names as well as last.

4—Do make sure the newspaper receives a report of your meetings, at least the important ones. Don't ask the paper to give you several advance meeting notices—and then fail to follow-up with a story.

5—Newspaper editors will love you if you can recognize a good feature story in your community and tip them off. It need not particularly concern your organization.

6—And they will love you twice as much if you realize yours is only one among many organizations and you do not expect "bigger headlines" than the others.

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba—Mrs. J. Kennard Lust, of London, England, the former Jane Skidmore of Marquette, is enroute to Escanaba for an extended visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Skidmore.

Gladstone—Mrs. Milton Damitz has been re-elected captain of Company B of the Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church.

Manistiquette—Mrs. R. L. Almstead has arrived from Adrian to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Passenheim.

Twenty Years Ago

Cooks—The Soo Creamery company will build and operate a cheese plant here, it was announced today by Matt Walter. Work will begin as soon as the weather permits.

Gladstone—Mr. and Mrs. Peter LeClaire are the parents of a daughter, Joyce Jean, born Feb. 22.

Manistiquette—Mrs. A. S. Putnam has left for Los Angeles, Calif., for an extended visit.

Gladstone—Mabel Larson is home from her studies at Northern State Teachers college in Marquette, for several days.

I would hate to see any increase in taxes, but if we are going to spend as much money as it looks like, we should raise taxes rather than go back to deficit spending.—Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D) of Virginia.

Treatment of a story is based on its news value.

7—You do not have to write out a story to have it printed. Set down the information and the newspaper will do the rest.

PARLIAMENTARY—So much for newspaper publicity. Let's go back to the 4-H meeting and take up subjects more entertaining, if less informative.

Ed Edick was meeting in a side room with club presidents and vice presidents, discussing proper methods of conducting club meetings according to parliamentary procedure.

Toward the end of their discussion period you could hear an occasional burst of laughter. They were having fun about something, and we wondered what could be so amusing in Robert's Rules of Order.

It all came out in a demonstration of parliamentary procedure. The boys and girls had agreed that when the time came for the introduction of new business, they would, as a part of the demonstration, adopt a motion to purchase "a new straw hat—to cost not more than ten cents," for Mel Nyquist, the 4-H agent.

The motion was adopted and was followed by a shout of laughter. But Mel was equal to the occasion. He went downstairs to his office and reappeared a moment later—wearing a large straw bonnet!

MORE FUN—Following the instruction session for the 4-H officers there was a round of games in which the boys and girls joined with a hearty good will. The games were directed by Miss Erler, and the club officers learned the games so they can direct the members of their own clubs in such games at their own meetings.

One thing impressed us about those 4-H kids. They enjoyed everything they did. There was enthusiasm in the study sessions and in the games period. If there was an opportunity for laughter they let it roll out. Perhaps that is one reason for 4-H success—it's fun.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—The old physical axiom that two bodies can't occupy the same space has stymied vitally important legislation in the House interstate and foreign commerce committee. It's quite a joke on Capitol Hill, but not for the public.

"The bodies," in this case, are two quite animate congressmen—Democrat Bob Crosser of Ohio and Republican Charles Wolverson of New Jersey, both of whom want to occupy the same office.

This office—next to the interstate commerce committee's meeting room—has always been the private sanctum of the committee chairman. However, outgoing Chairman Wolverson, Republican, has refused to pack up and leave so Crosser, new Democratic chairman, can move in. Meantime, the white-thatched, 74-year-old Crosser, who gets about in a wheel chair, must shuttle up and down between the committee room and his old office on the first floor.

Crosser, however, has done little shutting or legislating. While his temper has been mounting against Wolverson—and against Speaker Sam Rayburn for refusing to oust Wolverson—important bills on national health insurance, freight rates, and other matters also are piling up in the committee.

No hearings have been held (at this writing) on any of this legislation, though Congress has been in session almost eight weeks. Wolverson, who moved in when he became chairman two years ago, insists he has priority under a 1918 resolution giving House members the right to remain in an office they occupied during the previous session.

Meanwhile, the committee's legislative slag-pile gets higher and higher while the two prima donnas fight it out.

SNOWS CAUSE BEE LOSS

All sorts of stories have been written about the tragic cattle and sheep losses of the west, but not a word about the plight of bees. However, their loss has been just as heavy.

Though bees hibernate through the winter, they must leave their hive every six weeks or so for a breath of fresh air. Western snow-drifts have made this impossible, and, as a result, beekeepers in the snow-bound states lost 5 per cent of their bees.

Note—Bees have been overproducing lately, and the honey industry has appealed to Secretary of Agriculture Brannan to take some of the surplus off its hands. The western loss, therefore, will not affect the supply of honey nationally.

ALARMING COINCIDENCE

A grating noise, as if a cricket were loose in the room, interrupted a group of senators and congressmen during a committee meeting the other evening.

Embarrassed, Congressman Wright Patman of Texas grabbed his wrist watch. The mysterious sound ceased.

"That alarm is just enough to wake me up in the morning without wakening my wife," apologized the Texas congressman. "But the darn thing goes off every twelve hours."

Senator Lyndon Johnson, also of Texas, kidded the congressman about his watch with the Dick Tracy trimmings. Then the group went back to work.

Five minutes later, the same cricket noise chirped out again. This time, Senator Johnson grabbed his watch.

Then it developed that Senator Johnson had been the first to acquire a cricket-chirping watch, and Congressman Patman was so intrigued with it that he hunted up a jeweler who could order one just like it from Switzerland.

WARNING ON CIVIL RIGHTS

A broad hint that southern senators will not help repeal the Taft-Hartley act if civil rights are jammed down their throats has been given by Georgia's Senator Dick Russell. Since Russell represents the south on the Democratic policy committee, his warning is important.

A good many southern senators voted for the Taft-Hartley act in the first place, Russell has quietly reminded his colleagues. But they might now be willing to support Truman regarding the Taft-Hartley act if he in turn compromised for a softer stand on civil rights.

Note—Administration leaders say Truman is not likely to compromise. Civil rights was one of the most important planks in his election platform.

HELP NEEDED, TRUMAN URGES

President Truman had a significant private session with Speaker Sam Rayburn and members of the House ways and means committee the other day, at which he again urged changes in the social-security program, especially help for the aged and the blind.

If individual states can't provide adequate assistance to their aged, blind, and dependent children, Truman urged, then the federal government must increase grants to the states. Help should go to all the needy, the president added, not merely to those over 65.

"The program now in effect isn't nearly meeting the relief needs of the nation," Truman asserted. "We have got to broaden the base of public assistance so that all destitute people are eligible for benefits. In addition, we must increase individual benefits to correspond to higher living costs."

At the same time, he added, relief recipients should be permitted to supplement their meagre benefits by part-time employment—when able to work—without getting involved in red-tape restrictions by the states.

Representative Aime Forand of Rhode Island reported that most of the Truman proposals were embodied in a bill he had introduced the day before. Speaker Rayburn also endorsed increased federal grants for general relief purposes.

Miami, Fla., (AP)—Once upon a time there was a mouse with hypnotic eyes. He could put the whammy on anything.

This mouse lived in the mattress of a fancy hotel room on Miami Beach. He shared the room with a bookie—but the bookie didn't know it.

One day the mouse, looking for food, crawled up on the top of a bureau desk. He pushed over two bottles, and out rolled some thyroid capsules and benzedrine pills.

Hungry, the little fellow gulped down two of each. Immediately he began jumping up and down like a pogo stick. His eyes bulged out like two billiard balls.

Just then the chambermaid came in. The mouse fixed her with his glittering eyeballs—and the maid slid to the floor in a trance.

"Hmmm—" said the mouse. He belted down another capsule, swallowed another pill.

In came the bookie. The mouse turned on the full power of his glimmers—and the bookie was in his power, too.

Up till then the mouse had been poor but honest. But he had been reading the racing forms and knew a thing or two.

"Look, dreamhead," he told the bookie. "I want you to take me to the head of the National Gambling Syndicate. I know he's in town. And I got big ideas for him."

The dazed bookie took him over to see the big boss, who was flanked by two gunmen. The mouse stuck his head out of the sweep of his powerful eyeballs he hypnotized both rodmen.

"All right, small fry," he told the boss. "You're taking orders from me from now on. Right?"

"Right!" said the startled big-time gambler. "But what's the pitch?"

"You put down the money," said the mouse. "And I hypnotize whoever it is we don't want to win. I can fix anything—basketball games, football games, bridge tournaments, bingo championships, boxing matches or horse races."

"It's a deal," said the boss.

So they took the mouse into their mob and nicknamed him "Muscle Eyes." He fixed five sporting events the first month, and the gang made a million dollars.

"Let's take it easy for a while," said the big boss, "and then come back for the big killing."

The grateful mob bought "Muscle Eyes" a polo coat and some dark glasses. They fixed him up with a real mouse doll, Madeline, the cutest thing on four paws in all Miami. But the soft life was too much for him.

He turned mean. He took to liquor, began beating Madeline and running around with lady mice who weren't really ladies.

And Madeline didn't like that at all.

Grand Marais

W. S. C. S. Meets

Grand Marais, Mich.—The Women's Society of Christian Service met at the Community church Wednesday afternoon. Members and guests present were: Mrs. Olive Touzel, Mrs. W. E. Hill, Mrs. Leslie Duval, Mrs. Ruth Shroeder and daughter Marilyn, Mrs. Doris Buckland, Mrs. Liza Mac Donald, Mrs. Nina Moles, Mrs. Margaret Niemi, Mrs. Dorothy, Hampton and daughter Janet and Miss Isabella McCall. Lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Olive Touzel and Mrs. Liza Mac Donald.

The rummage sale scheduled for 3 o'clock was not too successful due to the very stormy weather. The ladies plan to have another sale soon, as they have many beautiful and useful articles of clothing on hand. Proceeds are added to the building fund.

The next W. S. C. S. meeting will be March 1.

Women's Club

Sixteen members of the Grand Marais Woman's club met at the Community church Thursday evening. Mrs. Theodore Senecal was the speaker and her subject was "Our Trip West." Mainly she described the scenery and points of interest such as Texas City, Texas, the Painted Desert and Petrified Forest of Arizona, the Valley of the Giants, and Mt. Hood, Oregon. She displayed a few snapshots and travel photos.

The door prize donated by Mrs. John Balma was won by Mrs. A. S. Tulloch.

Following the business meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Lawrence Teller, Mrs. Charles Chilson and Mrs. Herman Pittipren. The Valentine theme was followed both for lunch and table decorations.

Campfire Girls

The Campfire Girls enjoyed a skating party at the rink Thursday evening. Dorothy Nyman, Lorraine Mulligan, Roseann Bugg, Harriet Grasser, Dorothy Olive, Annabel Morrissey, Rhea Ostrander, Ruth Shroeder, Arlene Saven, Carol Roberts, Edith Rae Barney, Bonnie Bugg and Carolyn Bugg were the members present. Mrs. Cecile Carter, their leader, served a delicious lunch at her home after they were through skating.

Personals

Mrs. W. E. Hall, Wally Hill, Mrs. Edward Soldenski, Irene Soldenski and Sandra Hill spent Friday in Marquette where Sandra received medical treatment.

Hank Rogers, Calvin Rogers and Floyd Camps, who are fishing at Nahma, spent the weekend at their home here.

Mrs. Mary Lefebvre, Kenneth Lefebvre and Douglas Mulligan motored to Newberry where Mrs. Lefebvre received a medical check-up following the operation she underwent a few weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Buckland and daughters Vicky Jean and Sherry are visiting at the home of Mrs. Buckland's brother, Jay Tanner of McMillan this weekend.

Mrs. Willhite has returned to her home in Berkeley. She has been a visitor at the Douglas Mulligan home.

Earl Morrissey and Miss Alice Newman of Newberry visited the John Morrissey home Friday.

Albert Grasser is enjoying his vacation in California. He and Oliver Smith flew from Chicago to Los Angeles last week and since that have been visiting at the home of Mr. Smith's sister, Miss Evelyn Smith of Waveria, Calif. They have made trips to FARMERS WANT DEER DEPORTED—This striking aerial view shows a herd of deer, part of an abundance of wildlife living in Illinois' Rock River valley, feeding in a wooded area near Rockford. Besides the deer, the valley harbors foxes, rabbits and pheasants. The Conservation Department, acting on complaints by farmers, may "deport" some of the crop-eating deer to wildlife sanctuaries.

San Diego, San Pedro and the Catalina Terminal on the Pacific Coast highway. Mr. Grasser enjoyed seeing the Chesterfield radio program and visiting Earl Carroll's night club in Hollywood. They also visited Ghost Town where so many western movies are shot. Being a fisherman, Mr. Grasser was especially interested in visiting the fish piers to watch the boats of halibut, sardines and tuna, and in touring the Van Camp Canning plant. Mr. Smith is owner of the Fish Shanty restaurant at Redondo Beach and the two men are there often.

George Washington Party
Grand Marais, Mich.—The George Washington games party sponsored by the senior class of Grand Marais high school was attended by over 100 people. It was held in the school gymnasium Saturday, February 19. The proceeds are to be used for the seniors planned trip to Washington, D. C.

Various games were played, after which the following program was given:

Master of Ceremonies—Stephen Block.

Acrobatics—Girls and boys of school gym classes.

Violin solo—Axel Niemi.

Tap dancing—Mrs. Hank Rogers.

Violin solos—Mr. A. Fey, accompanied by Mr. Parm Masse.

Old fashioned tunes and acrobatic stunts.

Singing of the Star Spangled Banner closed the program.

Bridge Club

Mrs. Andrew Soldenski entertained the Bridge club at her home Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Charles Bleckner, Mrs. James Thompson, Mrs. Lila Duval and Mrs. Robert Erickson were those attending. Mrs. Lila Duval won first prize and Mrs. Celina Bleckner the cut prize.

Games Party

The St. Ann's Guild of the Holy Rosary church sponsored a games party at the church hall Sunday evening.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Campbell of Newberry visited at the home of Mrs. Emma McDonald this weekend. Since Mrs. Campbell's illness the children have been staying with their grandmother, Mrs. McDonald, and aunts, Mrs. Jack Nobben and Mrs. Robert Pell. After a very happy reunion with their children, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell returned to Newberry.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gaupille have returned from a visit with Mrs. Falkenhagen of Saginaw.

Mrs. Andrew Soldenski and Raymond Carpenter spent Monday in Newberry at the dentist's.

Albert La Combe has returned from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where he attended a school of instruction on stone crushing.

Walter Wickland is visiting relatives in Farmington.

Army Convoy Aids 27 Sick Children At Navajo School

Tuba City, Arizona, (AP)—An Army convoy went to the aid of 27 critically ill children from the Navajo mountain Indian school Sunday. The school is 90 miles north of here on the Arizona-Utah border.

The ill children and three sick members of the staff at the school will be brought to the Indian hospital here.

Walter F. Gray, area principal of the Indian service, said it is believed shock and exposure suffered during recent storm conditions had contributed to the epidemic. According to word received here the disease has caused inflammation of the throat and death.

Norway North Cape Pushover For Russia

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Oslo, Norway (AP)—The famous North Cape—Russia's gateway to the Atlantic—is a military pushover. A battalion of Soviet troops could seize it any day that Stalin gave the order.

The North Cape flies the Norwegian flag. But it is temptingly situated near Russia's Arctic frontier. In the present condition of Norwegian defenses, it is virtually unprotected.

Many strategic prizes lie close to the vast limits of the Soviet Union. But none appears so helpless as the North Cape in case of a small, local attack—an attack designed by the Kremlin to be "short of war."

Any people less glacially calm than Norwegians would be having the jitters. For just now, they are standing alone—without a guarantee of aid from any source—as a focus of Russia's suspicion and anger.

Despite Soviet warnings, Norway has turned to the west for security. The very gesture was a risk. But the security is not yet a fact.

Western diplomatic observers here regretfully agree that Norway will be in a peculiarly hazardous position until such time, if ever, that western powers include her in their collective security.

One diplomat has privately summed it up this way: "Norway is out on a limb. If Russia moved into northern Norway tomorrow, would the United States fight? I can't imagine it. Atlantic statesmen have stirred up the Russians with talk of a great defense pact, but they have temporarily outrun military realities. There is no pact—yet. Instead, there's a dangerous vacuum."

Kremlin May Gamble
Military experts add this view: "The Kremlin may not want a global war at all, but a skirmish is something else. Seizing the North Cape, as long as Norway is isolated, might mean only a skirmish. The question is whether the Kremlin is ready to take that gamble in the next few months."

The weak defenses of northern Norway are presumably an open book to Soviet military intelligence. In addition, the Norwegian Communist party, although supported by less than 10 per cent of the people, is an old hand at boring from within.

Narrow, mountainous Norway is 1,100 miles long. Nearly half of this "land of the midnight sun" is within the Arctic circle, thinly inhabited, cut off from rapid communication with Oslo, the capital in the south.

Besides a frontier of 122 miles with Russia, there is another of 450 miles with Finland, which is in a tight Soviet military grip.

In the estimation of Russian strategists, the North Cape may outrank in importance the Dardanelles and the Skagerrak, which control Soviet passage to the Mediterranean and the North Sea.

Russian officers are as familiar with the North Cape terrain as with the Moscow subway. They penetrated Norway for 100 miles pursuing the German army in 1944.

The havoc which Germans wrought on the Allied supply line to Russia around the North Cape is still a vivid memory.

No real military buffer stands between the North Cape and the Petsamo area which Russia annexed from Finland and now strongly garrisons. A small Norwegian outpost is located at Kirkenes on the single coastal road leading from Petsamo to the cape. It is potentially at the mercy of Soviet frontier artillery less than five miles distant.

The few Norwegian troops at Kirkenes are almost wholly engaged in police work—keeping herdsmen and livestock from straying into Russian territory. The Kirkenes airfield is weather-bound in the winter. When planes fly, they are sternly warned to stay away from the frontier.

No Quarrel With Reds
Scattered pioneer villages hug the fiords in the North Cape region. Fishing is the main occupation. There is a shortage of everything but human endurance. The north is an economic drag on Norway as well as a possible military liability.

Norway's most tenuous defense line if Russia ever attempts a "police action" is in the vicinity of Narvik, nearly 300 miles from the North Cape. At Narvik, the sea reaches within three or four miles of the neutral Swedish frontier. The narrow land is rugged.

It is no secret in Oslo that Norway could not hope to offer more than a brief resistance in the Far DEMOCRATS' MAN—William M. Boyle, Jr., above, has been named executive vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee. He will handle the administrative detail of running the committee's Washington office, spelling chairman J. Howard McGrath, a Rhode Island senator. McGrath says the appointment has President Truman's "heartly approval." Boyle was formerly police director of Kansas City, Mo.

North. A few platoons of ski troops, several fighter planes and a gunboat or two warily keep watch.

The irony of the situation is that the Norwegians really like the Russian people. The Red army behaved well when it entered Norway in 1944, distributed free grain to relieve a famine, and withdrew punctually in 1945. Traditionally, there has been little or no friction between Russia and Norway.

But this is a nightmarish era of cold war. Since Czechoslovakia succumbed to a Red putsch, Norwegians have been filled with grave doubts as to Russia's aims regarding her little neighbors. And Norway feels very lonely today.

Pink and Blue Shower
Schaffer, Mich.—A large group of friends and relatives attended a pink and blue shower at the Homer Seymour home Sunday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Richard Potvin. An enjoyable afternoon of card playing and buncos was had by all with prizes won by Mrs. Homer Billings, Mrs. Louis Racicot and Theresa Seymour in cards and Mrs. Frank Moraski, Mrs. John Butryn and Mrs. Leslie Rose won in buncos. Mrs. H. Billings got guest prize.

Following the display of many lovely gifts, Mrs. Seymour served a tasty luncheon. Guests who attended the shower were Mrs. Ed. Lark, Mrs. Leslie Rose, Mrs. Roy Seymour and Mrs. Lawrence Seymour of Escanaba; Mrs. Wm. Slaga of Perronville, Mrs. Elmer Potvin and Stella, Mrs. Clarence Demerise and Mrs. Gustafson of Park River; Mrs. Fred Mott, Mrs. Frank Moraski, Mrs. Edwin Viau.

SONG WRITER DIES

Hollywood, Calif., (AP)—Death has taken James J. Lucas, 61-year-old composer of such old-time song hits as "I Love My Wife, But Oh You Kid," and "Smile and the World Smiles With You."

The onetime vaudeville star died Monday after an illness of two years.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

How's Your Listening Time?

Buck Howell and I were in Baleville last week. Dropped in at Bob's diner where some friends were sitting around talking about whether to sell hogs now or wait.

Buck plunges right into the discussion. He's lecturing away when suddenly they all stand up and start stomping their feet like it was an Indian war dance.

I'm flabbergasted. But Buck only looked sheepish and explains, "Guess I was talking again, when I should've been listening. When a person's talking time gets out of line with his listening time around here, the gang reminds him by standing up and stomping."

From where I sit, that's a good system. Everyone has a right to his opinions—but others have a right to theirs, too—whether it's deciding between to sell or not to sell, apple pie or cherry pie, or a glass of mellow beer or cider. Life's more interesting that way, and hang it if you don't sometimes learn something!

Card Party

A large group of friends attended a card party at the Paul Gauthier home Wednesday evening. Prize winners in 500 were Mr. L. Beauchamp for men; Mrs. Clarence La Marche first for women and Mr. Phil Desjardin won in sheephead. A tasty lunch was served by Mrs. Gauthier. The proceeds of this party are for the benefit of the Sacred Heart church.

Ladies Treat

A "country style" dinner will be served by the men of the Sacred Heart Parish next Sunday evening from 5:30 on, in the church basement. Following the meal will be various games to amuse all. Are we all curious to see how the men will go about serving? Let's all come out to enjoy this meal.

Sleighride Party

A large group of children enjoyed a sleighride party Sunday afternoon with Mr. Eugene Derocher.

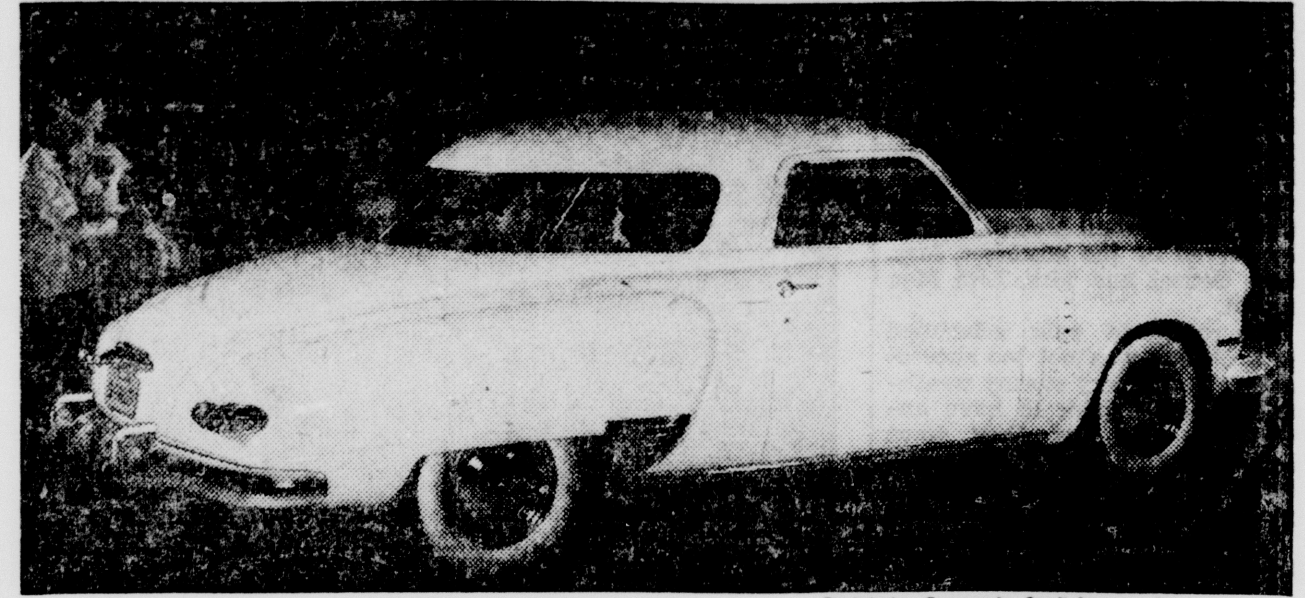

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Potvin arrived here from Milwaukee Saturday to spend the weekend.

Mrs. Potvin will remain with her parents for some time. Mrs. Homer Seymour, jr. and infant daughter Mary Louise accompanied her husband to Milwaukee where he is employed. Mrs. Ernest Briere and son Joey visited in Spalding Wednesday.

Mary Richer spent the weekend in Bark River at the Louis Gryzb home. Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hamelin of Escanaba visited with Mr. and Mrs. Joe LaFleur Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Vernon DuBroch and daughters visited at the Arnold Trudell home in Perkins Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cotoir of Escanaba visited at the Edmond Hurtubise home Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dupuy of Chicago are visiting with his mother Mrs. Josie Dupuy.

CHILD CRIME ON DECREASE

Publicity On Juvenile Delinquency Credited

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
Washington, (NEA)—For the first time in a decade, juvenile delinquency in the United States has started to drop.

This is reported by reliable experts on the problems of youth, in spite of the contention of these same experts that American kids aren't getting a fair share of the results of postwar prosperity, and that the American mother isn't doing an adequate job.

The number of American youngsters who tangled with the law decreased during 1948 between 10 and 15 per cent under previous years. During 1949 the country's juvenile delinquency rate is expected to be down almost 30 per cent below the average of the past 10 years.

These facts and figures were revealed exclusively to NEA Service at the annual meeting of the National Commission on Children and Youth. It is the first encouraging report on this major national problem. Members of the Commission are America's top experts on the problems of youth—psychologists, educators, judges and welfare workers.

Statistics were furnished by Judge Walter E. Beckham, president of the National Council of Juvenile Court Judges. Judge Beckham, of Miami, Fla., has the astonishing record of handing down 20,000 decisions involving juveniles without ever having had one of them appealed to another court.

"The tremendous amount of publicity which has focused on the problem of youth delinquency in America is at last beginning to show results," he says. "It has aroused cities and communities to attack delinquency in a proper manner. We are now getting some of the things we have been pleading for—modern detention homes, the wide use of modern methods of handling delinquents, and more help."

But Judge Beckham believes the nation's current prosperity could provide much greater strides than are being made. He says one of the worst things that could happen is for communities to relax and become complacent about their small gains. He contends that the problems of youth demand a constant and alert vigil to keep them under control.

Judge Beckham also gave a lot of credit to the role of the Federal government, acting through the FBI and Department of Justice, in leading the country over the hump on the delinquency problem.

Judge Beckham's statistics are supported by reports from all over the U. S. Clyde E. Murray, head of the Workers Union Settlement in New York City, says:

"The gangs of kids aren't as bad as they used to be. The offenders are less vicious. On the whole, the juvenile delinquency situation in New York appears to be improving. We've improved the way we handle young lawbreakers and we are cutting down on the number of repeaters."

A juvenile court official from California has a similar encouraging report. "Our state probably has had the worst juvenile delinquency problem of them all because of the great influx of migrant workers and migrant youths. But we have at last succeeded in turning the tide."

He attributes most of the successes to the newly created California Youth Authority which is providing an enlightened, unified method of handling young law breakers. At every stage of handling, they are kept separate from the older, hardened criminals.

Most of the experts agree that the foster home program, which has had a tremendous growth in the U. S. since the war, has been a big factor in cutting delinquency. More than 300,000 children are now living in foster homes in America. They aren't adopted by the families who keep them. Many have parents who are unable to provide decent homes. There are Federal and state programs which provide monthly allotments for the care of children in foster homes.

Chairman of the Commission, Leonard W. Mayo, who is also president of the Child Welfare League of America, stoutly defends American parents and their responsibility for delinquency. He says:

"The American parent has been made a scapegoat for all the faults of today's youngsters. I think they've done a magnificent job in combating the upsetting effects of war and inflation in the way they have been raising their children. If it hadn't been for their intelli-

Polish Jews Block Oliver Twist Movie

Berlin, Germany (AP)—Enraged Polish Jews rioted before a British sector movie theater and for the second time blocked a showing of the film "Oliver Twist," which they charge is anti-semitic. Police used clubs and fire hoses to hold back a charging crowd of demonstrators, but without much success, when the theater tried to open for the afternoon showing of the film, based on the Dickens novel.

A melee of flying fists and clubs surged up and down the Kurpuestendamm. German police of the British sector called out all available reserves and British public safety officers decided to suspend the showing once again.

Demonstrators halted the first showing of the film in the Kurbel theater Sunday night. Then the British rejected a demand by high-ranking German officials of the British sector that it be banned. The demonstrators object to the portrayal of Fagin as a Jew who teaches young boys to steal.

Governor Williams Leaves Friday For Jaunt To Peninsula

Lansing, Feb. 23 (P)—Governor Williams and members of his staff today planned a weekend trip to the Upper Peninsula to inspect state institutions.

The official party will fly in a state plane if weather permits, leaving Friday afternoon and arriving at Sault Ste. Marie for a dinner at 7 p. m.

Saturday the governor will inspect the branch of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology and the State Mental hospital at Fort Brady and will leave in time to arrive in Houghton for a noon luncheon.

In the afternoon he will inspect the site of a proposed tuberculosis sanatorium and the main unit of the mining college, and will fly to Escanaba for a 6 p. m. dinner.

He will officiate at a luncheon at Iron Mountain and the Pine Mountain ski meet Sunday, returning to Lansing in the afternoon. Presumably because of suggestions that the governor and his wife, who has three small children, should not both fly in the same plane, Mrs. Williams will go to the Soo by automobile and again meet him at Escanaba.

The governor and his wife were together two weeks ago in a plane crash at Lansing.

The governor will be accompanied by Lawrence L. Farrell, his executive secretary; Paul Weber, his press secretary; state police Sgt. Sam McIntyre and Miss Julia Lawler, his personal secretary.

State controller Robert F. Steadman will meet the governor's party at Houghton.

Make Delinquent Tax Settlement

A settlement of delinquent taxes, totaling $890.17, has been made through the office of the Delta county treasurer, it was reported today. The amounts collected in January at the county treasurer's office and disbursed to the townships and cities is as follows:

Cities of Escanaba $120.27; Gladstone $255.02; and the village of Garden $3.94.

Townships of Baldwin $13.57; Bark River $28.42; Ray de Noe $13.36; Brampton $39.97; Cornell $12.67; Ensign $11.82; Escanaba $70.16; Ford River $64.12; Garden $33.25; Maple Ridge $18.93; Masonville $32.57; Nahma $19.30; Wells $132.80.

Col. Maitland Becomes Air Chief In Michigan

Madison, Wis., Feb. 23 (P)—Col. Lester J. Maitland, 50, director of the Wisconsin aeronautics commission, announced his resignation today to become director of the Michigan State Aeronautics Commission.

Truman Tosses Rough Epithets At Columnists

saving democracy, his military aide partly nullified this talk — and money — by accepting a high decoration from a military dictator who has ridiculed all the things that Truman talks about."

Mr. Truman made no reference to Pearson in his brief talk. The columnist had this comment:

"If Mr. Truman is trying to discourage the right of fair comment, then he, too, has another thing coming. The men he has on his staff are his business — even though the taxpayers have to foot the bill."

"But when his staff members accept medals from a military dictator whose principles this government has denounced, then it's the public's business and should be Truman's."

No Loud Speaker

The President addressed the hushed gathering of reservists without benefit of a loud speaker. After reviewing Vaughan's career, and praising the general and his other aides, Mr. Truman said:

"What I am leading up to is this — that there have been some very vicious attacks on my military aide, unjustified, and — I say advisedly — vicious."

"They are not intended to smear him, but he happens to be my military aide and in a campaign I am the head of one of the great political parties, and therefore a fair target for everything, and those around me sometimes get the attacks, and they are not pleasant."

He said his aides, his executive assistants and his secretaries are "able to take it."

Commenting that he had been reading a book on "pollsters," the President quoted its author as having said that if he ever found himself in agreement "with the Chicago Tribune or some of these columnists and broadcasters who have been attacking my staff, he would know very well he was wrong."

The chief executive next praised Generals George C. Marshall, Dwight Eisenhower and Omar Bradley.

He told again the story of how he asked Marshall in 1940 to give him an artillery group. He said when he told Marshall he was 39, Marshall replied:

"You are too damned old; you had better go home and keep on working in the Senate."

The official transcript changed this to "too darned old."

The praise of the Generals preface Mr. Truman's remark that he was "just as fond and just as loyal" to his military aide as he was to the "high brass."

After his challenge to the commentators and columnists, he went on:

"I think I have one trait, and that is I never go back on a friend. A great many so-called friends have been a little jittery about me, sometimes, but I have never been. They were not so jittery on the 3rd of November as they were on the first."

Airlift To Berlin Sets Record Again

Berlin, Feb. 23 (P)—The Allied airlift made a record-breaking haul to Berlin for the second straight day today.

British and American planes carried 7,897 tons in 905 flights in a 24-hour period ended at noon. This was 384 tons better than yesterday's record showing.

Home Relief System Studied In Congress

By FRANCIS M. Le MAY
Washington, Feb. 23 (P)—Some lawmakers predicted today that perhaps no more than 10,000,000 persons will be added to the Social Security rolls, instead of the 20,000,000 President Truman wants.

Due to administrative difficulties, they said, about 10,000,000 farmers, farm laborers and household workers may not be blanket-covered under old age and survivors insurance as the presidency asked. About 30,000,000 workers are covered now.

There is a sharp split—in the states as well as in Congress—over both that program and Mr. Truman's broad "home relief" plan to give federal financial aid to all who need it.

The aid-to-the-needy program would require the states to put up some of the funds—the amount depending on their per capita income—with the federal government making up the rest.

In an Associated Press poll of governors and state welfare directors yesterday, some officials expressed the view that this requirement would place too great a load on local governments. Florida's Gov. Fuller Warren said flatly: "I don't believe the state can afford it."

But other states showed great interest in the plan. C. J. Maxey, Michigan's state welfare director, said: "We're always glad to get federal funds. The state of Michigan would be willing and able to put up its share."

The cab was used then in hold-ups of a gasoline station and a dry cleaning firm, which netted a total of nearly $300.

Several hours after police engaged in a running gun battle with occupants of the cab, police arrested Williams, identified as a parolee from the Michigan State Reformatory at Ionia. On information supplied by him, Dougherty was picked up.

Russian Army Told To Keep Prepared For U. S. A. Attack

Moscow, Feb. 23 (P)—Marshall Nikolai A. Bulganin, minister of the armed forces, alerted Russia's fighting men in an order of the day today by maintain "constant combat preparedness" against the United States.

The order called for the firing of 20 artillery salvos in all major cities to celebrate the 31st anniversary of the Soviet Army.

Bulganin's words were echoed by editorials in Pravda and Izvestia, the Soviet Union's leading newspapers.

"The ruling circles of the United States which seek to establish their world domination by force pursue a policy of aggression and of unleashing a new war," said the order of the day.

"In these conditions the Soviet armed forces must indefatigably maintain constant combat preparedness on a high level."

"The Soviet people may rest assured our army, air force and navy will vigilantly stand guard over their Socialist homeland."

Reward For Aliens Who Aid U. S. Spies Pushed In Congress

Washington, Feb. 23 (P)—A congressional committee approved unanimously today a bill to let the United States take care of aliens who help American spies abroad.

The House Armed Services committee voted to press for early House action on a secrecy-shrouded measure which would allow the Central Intelligence Agency to bring into this country every year up to 100 persons who had given important information to U. S. agents in foreign countries.

The committee room was cleared of newsmen and spectators while the bill was discussed and approved.

'Gorgeous George' Draws Small Crowd

New York, Feb. 23 (P)—Professional wrestling made a disappointing return to Madison Square Garden last night, drawing 4,197 customers and a gate of around $14,000 for a show featuring Gorgeous George.

Promoters had predicted a crowd of more than 10,000. Rain probably discouraged many.

George, the marcelled Hollywood showman, won the feature attraction, tossing Ernie Dusek of Omaha, Neb.

Affairs In Detroit Welfare Department Stir Up Hot Scrap

Detroit, Feb. 23 (P)—A state Senate committee today left behind Detroit's uproarious public welfare affairs to retire to Lansing's relative peace and quiet.

In two days of hearings here the committee had a rough time, climaxed yesterday by shouted recriminations and table-thumping.

It got so bitter at one point that City Controller John N. Daley was shaking his fist and challenging the fitness of Sen. Perry W. Greene of Grand Rapids to be a senator.

Daley accused Greene and his co-investigator, Sen. Colin L. Smith of Big Rapids, of being "anti-social" and "prejudiced" and of trying to "crucify Detroit's poor."

The committee also was heard from, and sharply.

Before departing last night for Lansing, Sen. Smith charged that certain unnamed persons had started a plot to discredit an inquiry which disclosed welfare fraud.

Two Detroit Men Confess Holdups In Stolen Taxicab

Detroit, Feb. 23 (P)—Police said today that two men admitted they held up a taxi cab driver last night, bound him to the door of a school and used his cab in two other holdups.

Held are Junior L. Williams, 25 and his brother-in-law, Richard E. Dougherty, 22.

Jerry Wells, the cab driver, said one of the men pushed a pistol in his back shortly after he picked them up. He said they tied him to the door handle at the Cerveney school but he broke loose a few minutes after the men drove his cab away.

The cab was used then in hold-ups of a gasoline station and a dry cleaning firm, which netted a total of nearly $300.

Several hours after police engaged in a running gun battle with occupants of the cab, police arrested Williams, identified as a parolee from the Michigan State Reformatory at Ionia. On information supplied by him, Dougherty was picked up.

Egyptian Delegates Approve Armistice Terms With Israel

Rhodes, Feb. 23. (P)—Israel and Egypt will sign an armistice agreement at a ceremony here tomorrow, ending their war in Palestine and opening the way for an overall peace between the new Jewish state and the Arab world.

The Egyptian delegation which negotiated for 42 days with the Israelis brought from Cairo today its government's favorable answer to the armistice worked out under United Nations auspices.

The agreement, already accepted by the Israeli cabinet at Tel Aviv, calls for demilitarization of all Egyptian-held Palestine, and leaves the Israelis in possession of most of the barren Negev desert, which Israel hopes to dot with settlements.

The armistice paves the way for negotiations between Israel and states at war with her for nine months.

The U. N. mediator, Dr. Ralph Bunche, has announced that talks between Israel and Trans-Jordan, will begin Monday.

Six Policemen Hurt In Los Angeles Riot Of 1000 Young Men

Los Angeles, Feb. 23 (P)—Six police officers received minor injuries and two youths were arrested yesterday after 60 policemen were called to halt rioting among more than 1,000 young men in Lincoln Park.

Officers said a crowd gathered around their car when they went to the park to investigate reports of rowdiness, and started hurling stones, bottles and other missiles.

Three police cars and a motorcycle were damaged slightly by flying missiles and six officers were treated for bruises and cuts. The police quieted the disturbance without the use of tear gas, which they were supplied.

Hockey Makes Debut At Cincinnati Rink

Cincinnati, Feb. 23 (P)—The Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League treated a crowd of 11,500 "first nighters" to ice wizardry last night as they humbled a Cincinnati team, 5-2, at the formal opening of the $3,000,000 Cincinnati garden.

The crowd, sitting in on the debut of professional hockey here, was believed to be the largest ever to see the ice sport in Ohio.

Cincinnati will become a member of the American Hockey League next season.

Last night's "Cincinnati" team was made up of members of the Dallas Texans of the U. S. Hockey League and spare players from the Montreal outfit.

Van Alstyne Makes Final Show As MSC Cage Mentor Tonight

East Lansing, Feb. 23 (P)—Michigan State College will play its last home game of the basketball season here tonight against Notre Dame.

The Spartans, underdogs in the return engagement, will be out to win this one for their veteran Coach Ben F. Van Alstyne.

For tonight will mark Van Alstyne's last appearance as head basketball coach in the MSC hoop arena he helped to build. Typically, he will see his team pitted against top opposition.

With the end of this season, Van Alstyne is retiring to hand over the post of head coach to his young assistant, Al Kircher. The Spartans play one more game, away from home, with Ohio State at Columbus, Ohio, next Monday.

His retirement will mark the end of 30 years of coaching basketball in the college ranks for Van Alstyne, 23 of these years as head coach at MSC. He will continue as head golf coach at the college and as a teacher in the physical education setup.

Sports Anti-Bribery Law With 'Teeth In It' Is New Proposal

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 23. (P)—Only Governor James H. Duff's signature is needed to give Pennsylvania a strong sports anti-bribery law.

The measure, sponsored by Senator M. Harvey Taylor, completed its journey through the general assembly yesterday when it was passed by the House. The Senate previously approved the measure.

Gov. Duff, one-time Princeton university baseball pitcher, is expected to sign the bill within a day or two.

The bill makes any person subject to penalties up to three years' imprisonment and a $3,000 fine for even attempting to bribe a player or anyone connected with a sports event.

Taylor, Harrisburg Republican and former minor league baseball player, said under his bill "You dare not even flirt with anybody connected with a sports team or athlete."

Commissioner Bert Bell of the National league conducted a personal drive for the legislation after the Hapes-Filchok professional football case broke in New York two years ago. At that time, the commissioner suspended the two New York Giants' players for failure to report a bribe.

He again asked for a law with teeth last December. At that time Joe Fuls, high scoring forward of the Philadelphia Warriors of the Basketball Association of America, brought bribery charges against a Philadelphia poolroom operator.

The operator was held for court under a little used charge which makes it a misdemeanor to attempt to bribe a servant or employee. The maximum penalty for that crime is a year in jail and $500 fine.

U-M Six Is Midwest Entry in the NCAA

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 23 (P)—As Vic Heyliger sees it, Michigan's hockey team is a cinch to represent the midwest in the NCAA championships.

The Wolverine coach, whose team has lost only once in 19 games, said yesterday the record assures Michigan's selection for the Colorado Springs, Colo., tournament next month.

Heyliger, incidentally, is chairman of an NCAA committee which will name the midwest entry.

The NCAA will choose its rink champion in three days of play—March 17-19—at the western city. Michigan has won 14 games and tied three. Its only loss was to Michigan Tech, a defeat later avenged. It has games remaining with Tech and Minnesota.

In 1946, Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox, went hitless in eight of the 11 games his team played at Yankee Stadium.

Import Ptarmigan To U. P. In Game Bird Experiment

In the Bush Creek area near Iron River in the Upper Peninsula there are 91 ptarmigan (pronounced 'tarmigan') flying around—the hoped-for nucleus of a new Northern Michigan game bird.

The ptarmigan were brought to the Upper Peninsula from the Canadian wilds, some 2,000 miles north of Iron River. Of the total shipments of 128 birds, 91 survived and were released. The last shipment of 31 arrived at Iron River last Friday and of this number 27 were alive.

"We hope the ptarmigan will survive and thrive in Northern Michigan," said Harold J. Richards of Caspian, Michigan conservation commissioner.

Richard's Plan
The importation of ptarmigan was Commissioner Richards' idea and he has personally interested himself in the planting. It was his hope that a new game bird species can be imported successfully and the state conservation department allocated $2,000 to finance the project.

The birds were trapped by Canadians in the bush country 500 miles north of Prince Albert with nets and bait. They were placed in specially designed crates and flown by Northwest Airlines from Prince Albert to Winnipeg, and by Trans-Canada airline from Winnipeg to Sault Ste. Marie. There they were taken over by Arlow Boyce of the Michigan department of conservation and taken by auto to Caspian.

Too many birds were placed in one crate in the first shipment and many of them died. Later shipments were more successful.

Changes Color
The ptarmigan is a fluffy white-feathered bird slightly larger than the ruffed grouse or partridge native to the Upper Peninsula. The white feathers give the ptarmigan natural concealment in the wintertime. In summer it turns reddish brown.

Conservation department game men who have observed the birds when they are released near Iron River report the ptarmigan apparently "took" to their new surroundings without hesitation. Many flew off immediately and were soon out of sight. Others alighted in the snow and then walked into the brush, while some flew into the trees and began eating tree buds, their natural food.

Commissioner Richards, whose term expires this year, said that if he is reappointed to the commission he will next year seek additional imports of ptarmigan to continue the experiment.

Test Next Summer
G. A. Ammann, game biologist of the conservation department has reported to Richards that at Stony Rapids, 500 miles north of Prince Albert, the weather was 30 degrees below zero by day and 45 degrees below zero at night where the birds were trapped. Ammann was in charge of the northern trapping task.

Skeptics have pointed out that if the ptarmigan wished it could extend its range to include the Upper Peninsula. It has not done this, and there must be a reason, they say.

Conservation department game men believe the ptarmigan experiment will receive its most severe test in next summer's warm weather, when the birds will experience temperatures higher than those to which they are accustomed in their natural Canadian summertime range.

The ptarmigan planting is one of several experiments conducted by the conservation department in an effort to establish a new game bird in Northern Michigan. Pheasant plantings have been largely unsuccessful, and the importation of Hungarian partridge has been indifferently successful so far.

Library Adventure

By Arnold Mulder

DID OUR so-called Revolutionary Fathers ever play politics the way men in public life do now, or were they all high-minded and disinterested statesmen?

If the typical writer or speaker about those early patriots is to be believed, the leaders of those days would not have dreamed of playing politics. They were wholly above any kind of trickery or double-dealing; "none were for a party, all were for the state." Playing politics is a game invented in modern times, according to such people.

That's one reason why it is wholesome, and revealing, to read the books written by those Revolutionary Fathers themselves. Such documents often serve to correct the distorted views that result from contemporary ancestor worship. Those Revolutionary Fathers were quite as good at playing politics as the public men of today are. We do not have to guess at that; we have their own testimony.

Thus it is wholesome to reread Benjamin Franklin's famous "Autobiography." That book is chuckful of frank descriptions of political trick plays that Franklin and many of his associates engaged in. They were practical politicians and they played the game as their generation understood it. In many instances their political ethics were lower than those of today.

An amusing illustration dates back to 1745, approximately 30 years before the opening of the Revolutionary War. Young Franklin was a member of the Philadelphia fire company. The company consisted of 30 members, of whom 22 were Quakers. A proposal was made to build a battery for defense against the Indians and the French. But it was well known that the Quakers were by the principles of their faith opposed to any preparation of war. Hence Franklin and his seven associates would inevitably be outvoted 22 to eight if those Philadelphia "Fathers" lived up to their principles.

When the meeting was called only one Quaker appeared on the scene. He spoke eloquently against the proposal, declaring that all the 21 other Quaker members were bitterly opposed to it. But young Franklin got around a good deal and he knew pretty well what was going on behind the scenes. Among other things, he knew privately that most of those Quaker members were as anxious as he was to set up a defense against the Indians and French for the protection of their business, but that they did not dare come out openly for it.

As the leader of the company he was called out of the meeting to a restaurant across the street, where he found eight of the missing Quakers. They informed Franklin that they were for the measure as a bloc, and if he needed their votes he should send for them and they would defy their church. But they would much rather just stay away and have the measure pass without them. They begged Franklin not to call on them unless the proposal was in danger of losing.

Franklin was a "good fellow" and a practical politician. Instead of blaming the eight Quakers for their cowardice, he merely smiled and assured them he would do what he could to save their faces. He went back to the meeting acting director, will remain as chief of the statistics division.

Dr. John A. Cowan, director of the VD Control Department, will head the combine with the TB Department. Dr. George A. Sherman, acting director, will remain as a consultant of the TB Department on a part time basis.

Mergers Streamline Health Department

Lansing, (AP)—Two mergers have been effected to streamline the State Health Department. Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner said.

The Bureau of Disease Control has been merged with the Bureau of Records and Statistics and the Bureau of Tuberculosis Control has been merged with the Bureau of Venereal Disease Control.

The mergers were made without the firing of any personnel, Dr. Heustis said.

"I'm working toward a cabinet type of organization so we'll only have seven or eight departments instead of the present 15," the health commissioner said. "It's a delegation of power plan so that there will be less people who will have to report directly to me."

Dr. F. S. Leeder, head of the Disease Control Bureau, was named to head the combine with the Department of Records and Statistics. Mrs. Gertrude Pienta,

GRASSHOPPERS DAMAGE CROPS

Do Most Harm During Drought And Heat

Washington, D. C.—Wanted: a few good recipes that will make grasshoppers an attractive item of diet. Why? To turn a plague into a blessing. Or, at least, to provide a new incentive for grasshopper control.

World-wide in distribution and known to man since history's dawn, grasshoppers do little harm where natural controls keep their numbers down, notes the National Geographic Society. Every year, however, drought, heat, and other conditions combine to bring grasshoppers to scourge proportions in competition with man on crop acres and grasslands in many parts of the world.

Periodic Midwest Scourge
Farmers west of the Mississippi well know how damaging the grinding jaws of a few billion grasshoppers can be. Early signs indicate that 1949 may bring a summer of extra bad infestation, government entomologists say, and a counter-attack must be ready. The summer of 1936 was the last such plague year. Grasshoppers then caused triple the nation's large average annual food-crop loss due to this cause.

As to grasshoppers for food, the possibilities are quite real, say a few brave souls who have feasted on grasshopper drumsticks, wolfed grasshopper torsos braised in peanut oil, or gorged cakes made from the skittery critters dried and ground into flour.

Indians of the American west ate them in summers of bad drought. They collected large quantities by encircling an area with converging fire. The singed 'hoppers accumulated in piles at the fire's center. World War II literature for GI's in remote places suggested them as something to turn to if and when K rations ran out.

From present-day Palestine and Iran, from Argentina and Mexico from India and South Africa, as from Kansas and Wisconsin come periodic stories of various grasshopper species transforming crop areas into desert waste.

Sardinia's worst infestation in its long recorded history found UNRRA in 1946 supplying jeeps, trailers, trucks, and flame-throwers on an island where ox carts and donkeys still prevail. War-time neglect of controls was partially blamed for a June-July crisis that devastated most of 500 square miles of infested pasture land.

WED IN DALLAS—Bride in a ceremony February 12 in the chapel of the Highland Park Presbyterian church in Dallas, Texas, Mrs. Sherman McLean Hunt is the former Mary G. Andrews, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Andrews of Talbot, and a niece of James R. Andrews of this city. The Hunts, following a honeymoon in the south, will be at home at 4112 Grassmere Lane in Dallas.

Elaine Stangel Is the Bride of George Plansky

Miss Elaine Stangel, Two Rivers, Wis., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stangel, became the bride of George Plansky, also of Two Rivers, in a ceremony Saturday morning, February 19, at St. Mary's Catholic church at Tisch Mills. Rev. Joseph Kalisek read the service.

Bouquets of snapdragons and mums decorated the altar and the music of the wedding mass was sung by St. Mary's choir.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore white slipper satin, white seed pearl embroidery trimming the collar and peplum and the full skirt forming a fan shaped train. Her full length veil of illusion was held in place by orange blossoms. She carried orchids on a white prayer book, the bridegroom's gift.

The maid of honor, Marion Jasmer and the bridesmaid, Pearl Plansky, a sister of the bridegroom, wore teal blue taffeta with gold band headresses and matching shoulder veils and gloves, and they carried white crescent bouquets with gold satin ribbons.

Mrs. Plansky, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Plansky of Marinette, was attended by the bride's brother, Norbert, and groomsmen Mark Stangel, the bride's cousin. Ushers were Melvin Stangel and Aaron Plansky.

Mrs. Stangel, mother of the bride, wore dusty rose and Mrs. Plansky, a two piece dressmaker of black. Both had corsages of yellow daffodils and carnations.

Home in Two Rivers
A wedding breakfast was served to members of the bridal party, followed by a dinner for 75 guests and a supper for 150 at the home of the bride's parents.

A wedding dance was held in the evening. The colors of the wedding, gold, teal blue and white were used in the decorations for the wedding festivities and centering the bridal table was a five-tiered wedding cake, with flowers and matching tapers at either side.

The couple will live in Two Rivers where Mr. Plansky is employed by the Western Condensing company.

Guests at the wedding included Mrs. Wilfred Borden and daughter, Barbara, Escanaba; Mrs. Herman Detjen and daughter, Ellen, Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Krause, Ford River; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schiesler, Wilson, Mrs. August Hartwig and son, George, Escanaba, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Porath, Bark River.

Cherry Pie Baking Champion Has Date At White House

Chicago, Feb. 23 (AP) — Dimpled Betty Latimer, a pie baker for "around three or four years," has a date with President Truman as a result of her talents.

The 18-year-old Fredonia, N. Y., high school senior is the 1949 National Cherry Pie Baking Champion.

As winner in the contest here yesterday, Betty will present a cherry pie to Mr. Truman tomorrow in Washington.

Judges declared Betty's product the best in competition with 14 other girls from cherry producing states. Besides her trip to Washington, Betty gets a prize of $150.

The pie's appearance, crust and filling figured in the judging, along with the baker's own personality.

Betty studies home economics and is engaged to be married to a young man who "likes cherry pies."

Michigan's entry in the contest was 17-year-old Ruth Ann Lyons of Howell. Girls from Wisconsin, Indiana, Washington and Montana placed in the first five.

Here's Betty's winning recipe: Sift and measure two cups of enriched flour, add ¾ teaspoon of salt. Measure out ½ cup of vegetable shortening and ¼ cup of lard.

Cut into dry ingredients, add 6 to 8 tablespoons of water or milk. (She used milk.) Handle dough sparingly, roll out with light, deft strokes of covered rolling pin.

The filling: Measure ¾ cup of unsweetened cherry juice; three cups of drained cherries; three tablespoons cornstarch; ½ teaspoon salt; one cup sugar.

Make a paste of part of the juice (about one-half of it) and the starch, combine and cook until thick and clear.

Cool. Add cherries, the remainder of the juice, sugar, salt and arrange in pastry lined pie pan. Dot lightly with butter. Bake at 425 degrees for about 40 minutes.

Your Husband Has His Problems Too

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer
"Women are household slaves," declares a woman writer, who holds up a fairly good case to prove her charge.

But before women accept her verdict and start crying into the dishwasher over their sorry lot in life, let them consider for a moment that if they are household slaves their husbands are family slaves.

No man who supports a family is in any way free. He has to earn that paycheck—no matter what. Indeed, he may be so financially chained he doesn't even dare to quit a job he hates to try something else, if the job he hates offers security to his family.

Women often begrudge men their leisure time. But actually a man with a family usually spends his leisure time not as he wishes, but as the family demands.

Papa Is Last
As for money, it's a mighty small part of his salary that the average man spends on himself. The family's needs come first and what Papa gets for spending money depends on how much is left over after the groceries and the kids' shoes have been paid for.

Furthermore, a man's duty to his family doesn't end with providing them with today's necessities. He has to worry and save and contrive so as to have their future security assured in case anything should happen to him.

So let's not feel too sorry for ourselves. We women may be slaves. But our husbands are no more free than we are.

FOOD SUDDLY IS ENHANCED

Animal Plague Battle Getting Results

Washington—Five and a half million tons more milk per year for Europe, fewer famines in China, and large quantities of fresh meat from Ethiopia to feed undersupplied populations. These are among the benefits expected for a hungry world from the fight on rinderpest and other animal plagues now being waged by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United States.

The story of this fight from its hush-hush beginning on a remote Canadian island during the war was told here by Dr. K. V. L. Kesteven, Australian doctor of veterinary medicine, now adviser on animal diseases to the FAO. Dr. Kesteven spoke as guest of Watson Davis, director of Science Service, on Adventures in Science radio program under the auspices of Science Service over the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Rinderpest, fortunately unknown in North and South America, kills according to conservative estimates 3,000,000 animals per year in other parts of the world, Dr. Kesteven declared.

Foot and mouth disease, now being fought in Mexico, is considered only a minor disease in countries that have rinderpest, Dr. Kesteven explained. This is because rinderpest kills off such a very large proportion of the animals, sometimes as much as 90 per cent, in an area when an outbreak does occur.

This is one of the things that brings famine to China and other parts of the Far East. When the animals are killed, all cultivation of crops must be done by hand, and hand cultivation cannot produce enough food to keep the populations alive.

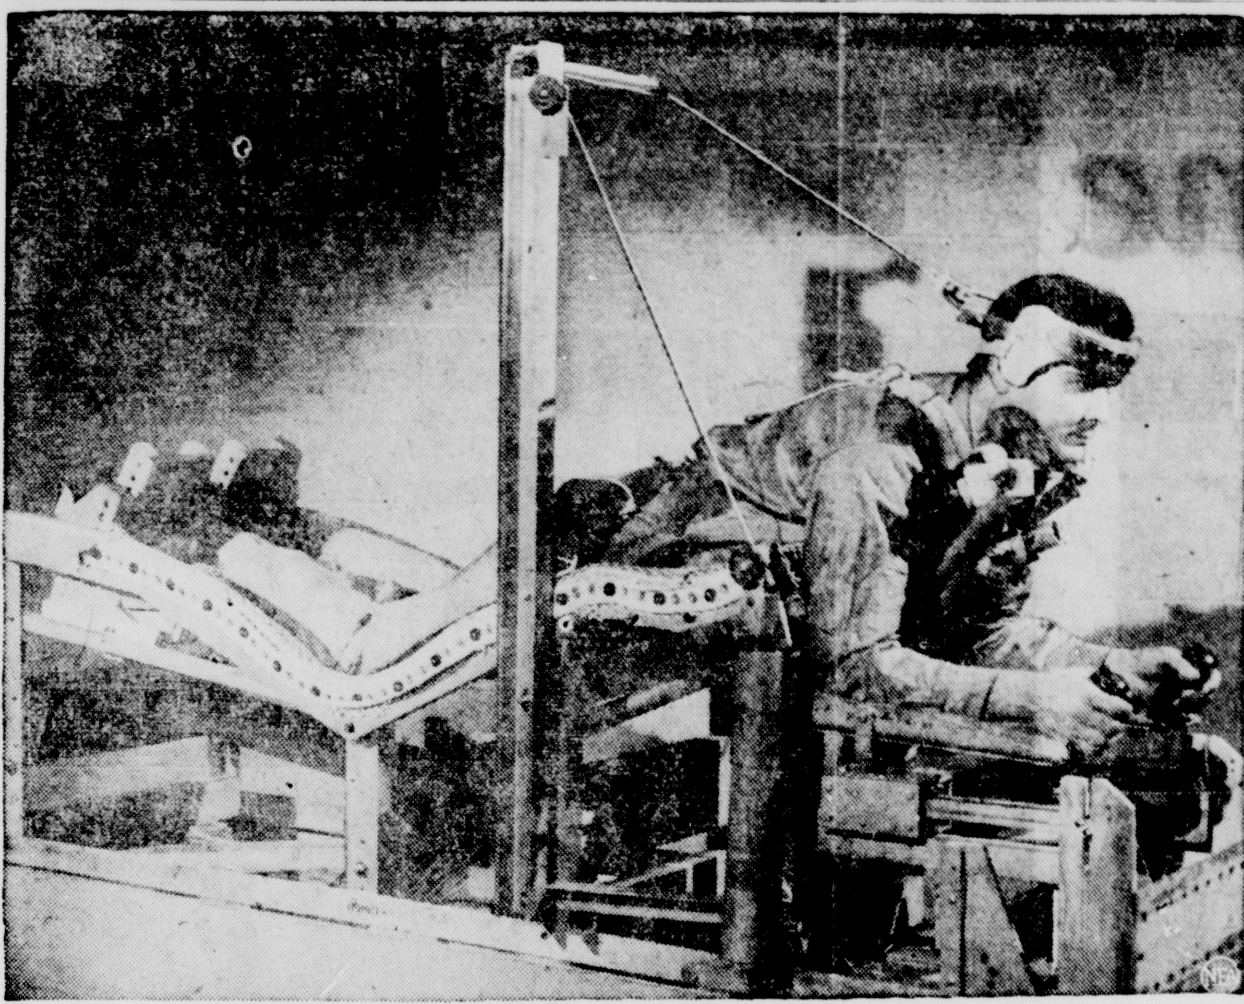

Record Of Record Year Put On Record By Armstrong Cork

Lancaster, Pa., (AP)—The Armstrong Cork Company has placed its 1948 record on record.

The firm announced it has mailed to each of its employees a simulated album containing a miniature unbreakable phonograph record and a written analysis of the company's 1948 operations.

The spoken portion of the report is a three-minute discussion by H. W. Prentiss Jr., Armstrong president.

The report is entitled "The Record of a Record Year."

PILOTS WILL LIE DOWN ON THE JOB—

When the Air Force pilot of the near future says "Well, I've got to go and stretch out on the couch," he'll mean he's going to work and is about to take a ship up. The "couch" is the bed pictured above, which may soon replace the conventional seat in the cockpit. Tests at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio, indicate that operating controls from this prone position is easier on pilots than the old sitting position. Flying fatigue is said to be lessened and danger of blackouts reduced.

Industries Hunt Jobs To Help Men Laid Off

By RICHARD KLEINER

Cleveland, (NEA)—With the number of unemployed in this area at its post-war peak, at least two industrial concerns are trying to find jobs for men they are forced to lay off.

The two plants are a large manufacturing company here and a medium-sized jobbing foundry in nearby Medina. The latter is merely looking for "tide-them-over" work, but the former is looking for permanent jobs.

During the month of December alone, the Apex Electrical Manufacturing Company, which employs about 1350 men, laid off 240. Apex makes washing machines, vacuum cleaners, dishwashers, dryers, ironers—electrical equipment which is not moving as rapidly in retail stores as it did six months ago. The resulting production curtailment makes layoffs necessary.

But Apex is trying to find its men comparable jobs at comparable pay. They wrote a letter to about 500 industries employing 100 or more men. They set up an alphabetical file of the men, by skills. As inquiries came in, they notified qualified men, interviewed them, and sent them out to the prospective job.

Apex virtually retooled its personnel office from a hiring agency to an employment agency. "It's worked remarkably well," says advertising and sales promotion manager Frank S. Ryan.

Of the 240 men laid off in December, 137 were placed. In one week in January, 36 men were referred to possible jobs. Thirty-one got them.

Some men have refused the new job, because the pay was lower than they got at Apex. Others preferred moving to a lower-paying job within Apex, so they might retain their seniority. Still others have agreed to work shorter hours, instead of being laid off.

The company keeps close tabs on the men laid off. They send them questionnaires, asking if they have found work, if they are satisfied and similar questions. A few report that they've never used the company's bureau, but about half of those laid off have been placed.

"We made no promises when we laid them off," says Ryan, "but we expect to take at least some of them back when business picks up."

At the Permold Company, in Medina, superintendent Harold R. Doswell says Permold hopes soon to take back all the men they've had to let go. Consequently, they're only trying to find odd jobs, to tide the men over until they can be restored to Permold's payroll.

Permold is a jobbing foundry, making aluminum castings. Most of their work lately has been producing agitators for washing machines, so they've felt the cut-back in production and have had to cut their work force.

They let 75 men go, of a normal force of 350. Some have been taken back already, as the company got new orders. They expect to take others back as more orders come in.

But, meanwhile, Permold advertised throughout Medina County. Readers offered the men odd jobs doing farm work, cutting down trees, painting and similar by-the-day and by-the-hour employment.

Doswell says they've kept no figures on the number of men placed in such jobs, "but we've been fairly successful."

He said that they were "not too anxious" to find the men steady jobs, because "we want them back." A few found permanent jobs on their own, but there are not many big plants in the Medina vicinity.

Most of the foundries are in the same boat as Permold now," said Doswell. "They're all a bit slack."

Beaver Island Air Service Disapproved

Washington, (AP)—A Civil Aeronautics board examiner Monday recommended denial of the application of Leslie D. Emery to operate a regular air service between Charlevoix, Mich., and St. James, on Beaver Island, Mich.

Emery is a co-owner of Emery and Rearick Air College at Owosso, Mich., and operates a plane-rental and charter flight service, and contract airmail services in Michigan.

He seeking authority to set up a scheduled air route between Charlevoix and St. James in the heart of the Michigan vacation country, for passengers, cargo and mail.

The CAB examiner, Richard A. Walsh, said he did not believe that sufficient business volume was in prospect to warrant the service.

Earthquake Willis Dies In California

Palo Alto, Calif., (AP)—The man who predicted the disastrous Santa Barbara earthquake of 1925 is dead. He was Dr. Bailey Willis, 91, known internationally as a seismologist and geologist and to thousands of Stanford University students as "Earthquake" Willis.

Dr. Willis, Stanford professor emeritus of geology, died Saturday night in Palo Alto hospital. Funeral services will be held Feb. 22.

Dr. Willis acquired his nickname of "Earthquake" by predicting the Santa Barbara quake and then by actually being on the scene when the disaster struck.

A world traveler, explorer, student, lecturer and writer, he became head of the geology department at Stanford in 1925. He retired 20 years ago to travel and lecture.

OPERATION 'O' BIG SUCCESS

About 100 Participate In Scout Event Sat'y

The Greyhound Patrol of Troop 453 of Escanaba won top honors and with the other two patrols of 453, the Mohawk and Beaver, combined to take troop honors in Operation Zero held Saturday afternoon at the Sports Park.

In second place was Wolf Patrol I of Troop 466 of Gladstone and they combined with Wolf Patrol II of 466 to score second in troop honors.

The Greyhound Patrol won 20 nuggets to the Wolf Patrol's 18 while Troop 453 which had three patrols competing won 53 nuggets to 466's 33.

Eleven patrols representing six troops participated.

Troop 467 of Gladstone was third with 26 nuggets, Troop 407 of Wells fourth with 23, Troop 454 of Escanaba fifth with 14 and Troop 444 of Escanaba sixth with 12.

Members of the winning patrol are George Rogers, Dick Cass, Tom Cass, Harland Pepin and Ronald Joslyn. James Bailey is Scoutmaster.

Members of the second place Wolf Patrol are Donald Brewer, Bud Nieuwenkamp, Rod Kelley, Bob Quarnstrom, Leland Louis, Bill Pelkey and Doug Schafer. Reuben Sjoquist is the Scoutmaster.

In the Mohawk patrol of 453 are Bud Yelland, Wayne Arts, Curtis Jackson and Bill Pelletier while in the Beaver patrol are Jim McCormick, Don Moore, Arne Dunathan and Lee Pearson.

All three of the patrols had sledges which they had made. The sledge of the Beaver patrol was adjudged the best.

The event was arranged by Scout Executive Ed Kot, Escanaba and Hilmer Skogquist, city.

Senior Scouts of Escanaba served as judges. At Frozen City were Buzzy Villumure and Ralph Sylverson. At Tinka were Robert Murphy and Wallace Cameron. Serving at Dawson City were James Stoker and Justin Cousineau. At Sitka were David Zerbel, Richard Noon, Oscar Ohman and Leonard Elquist. At Nome was Robert Richards.

Clarence Zerbel of Escanaba was tally judge.

Scoutmasters attending were Earl Polmaster of Troop 407, Wells; Erwin Wolff of Troop 444, Escanaba; James Bailey of Troop 453 of Escanaba; Reuben Sjoquist of Troop 466, Gladstone; James Stoker of Troop 467 of Gladstone and Alfred Potvin of Troop 407 of Wells.

Each Scout participating received an Operation Zero badge, prepared for the event by Conan Fisher.

Approximately 100 persons participated in the event. There was not a single casualty and no one got lost. Lunch was served at the clubhouse at the close.

State Gets $115,000 Unclaimed Rebates From Michigan Bell

Detroit, (AP)—The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. is turning over $115,000 to the state as the unclaimed balance of a customer rebate.

The $150,000 rebate, for long distance telephone users, was ordered by the state supreme court in 1940.

More than $108,000 of the refund represented unclaimed rebates on pay station calls, according to Ben R. Marsh, vice president and general manager.

He said users of public telephones who kept records received refunds.

The unclaimed balance will go to the primary school fund

DEMONSTRATION ENTERTAINING

Scout Executive Shows Cooking Is Simple

Approximately 200 persons witnessed and enjoyed the demonstration of camp cooking on a dining room table given here at the high school gym Sunday by Lloyd Shafer, Fond du Lac Scout executive.

Following an opening ceremony by a local Girl Scout troop Shafer got audience participation through the medium of clever paper stunts including making of hats and a Jack and the Bean Stalk trick.

Emphasizing that with what is ordinarily waste material about the home boys and girls can fashion utensils which can be used on camping trips, Shafer using homemade stove and other utensils cooks an Angel on Horseback, Pig in the Blanket, made soup and prepared hamburgers.

During the afternoon Don Brewer was presented with his Star Badge. Presentation was by Claude E. Hawkins.

A verse of America the Beautiful was sung by the audience at the close. Wallace Cameron served as master of ceremonies.

Attending were Scouts, Girl Scouts, Cubs and adults from Nahma, Bark River, Escanaba, Wells and Gladstone. Nahma was particularly well represented having 40 or more present.

Washington's Home

THE MANSION. Washington acquired the "great House" two years after death of his half-brother Lawrence in 1752.

BANQUET HALL has been called one of handsomest of its period. Robert King vacuums carpet, presented many years ago as a piece which had been intended for Washington by Louis XVI.

DINING ROOM has ornate mantel, decorated ceiling. On table which Georgeanna Byrd is dusting is mirrored plateau, a gift to Washington from Gouverneur Morris.

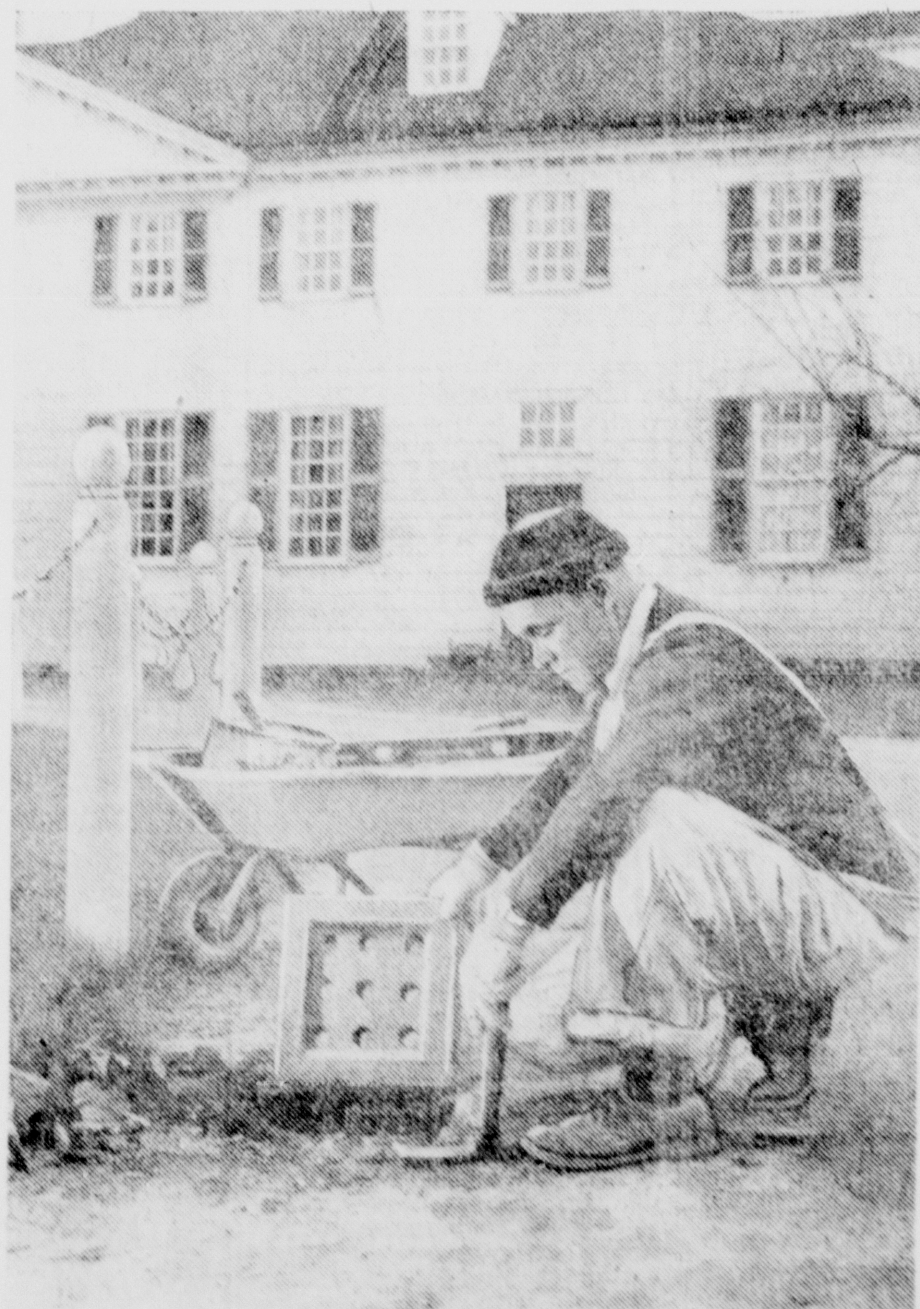

MOUNT VERNON, where George Washington lived and died, remains one of our best-preserved and most popular shrines. Beautifully situated on a hill overlooking the broad Potomac river, 15 miles south of the nation's capital, the two-story mansion-house still looks very much the same as Washington knew it when he came back from the war and the presidency to spend his last days. Around it are gardens, walks and out-buildings, the bowling green and the park. During the 1947-48 season, some 897,000 persons visited it. The rooms which contain much of the furniture which was in them when they were occupied by Washington and his family are kept spotlessly clean. Caretakers and gardeners keep vigilant eyes on the grounds and buildings. The estate is under the care and trust of the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association whose early members in 1860 bought it for $200,000 from Washington's heirs. Here's Mount Vernon today.

HOLLY TREE, 100 years old, which obstructed view from mansion, is placed about 500 feet from its original site.

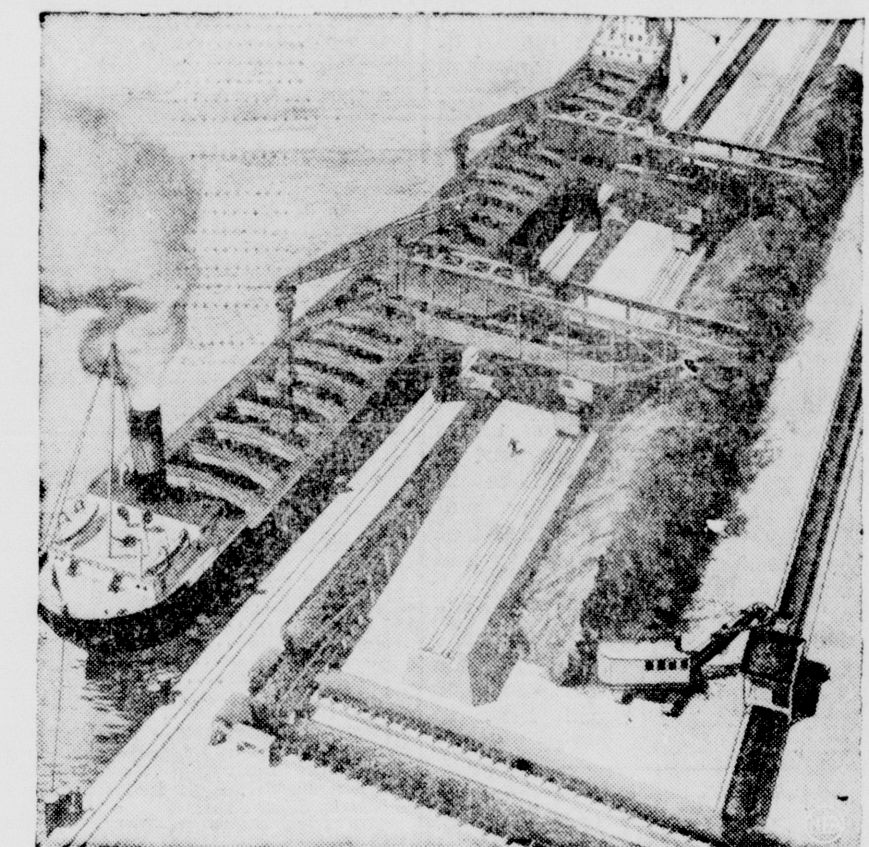

REPAIR. Frank Beavers replaces water drain in driveway. It is of baked clay, the better to blend with the Colonial atmosphere.

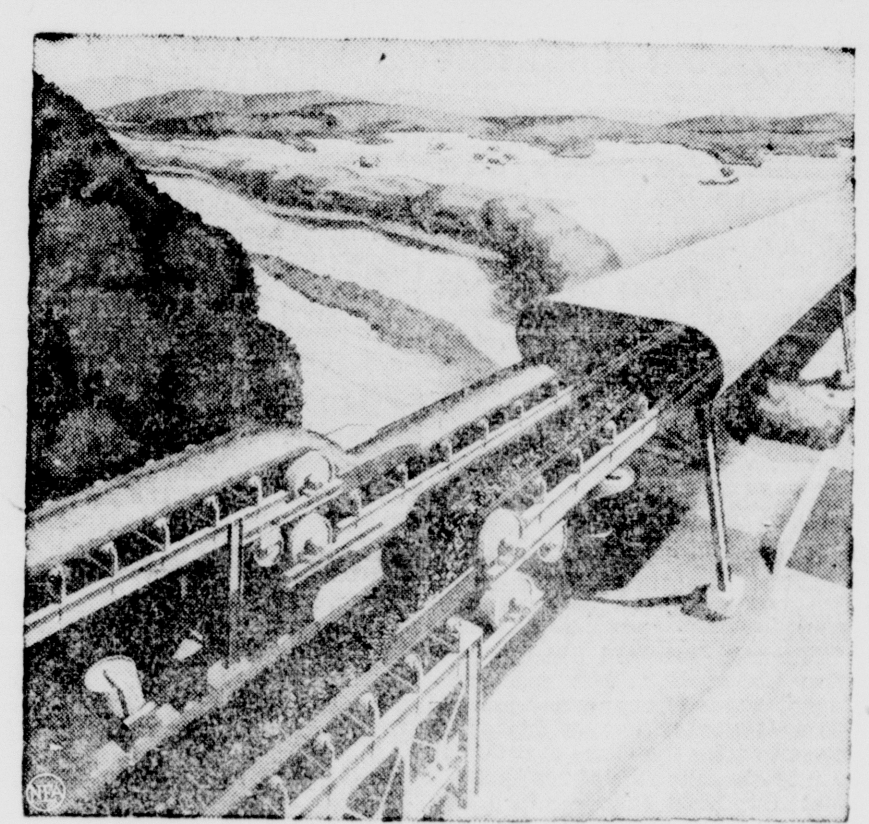

VISITOR Mrs. Eva Santos, Pawtucket, R. I., buys clipping from boxwood hedge from Sue Thorp. The hedges have been propagated from plants set out in time of George Washington.

World's Longest Belt Conveyor May Link Lakes With Ohio River

A radically new freight transportation scheme promising far-reaching effects on Great Lakes and Ohio River commerce and the wealth of industry in "America's Ruhr"—the Pittsburgh coal-and-steel area—is in the stage of advanced planning. It is a 130-mile, two-way belt conveyor to link Lake Erie with the Ohio River. A corporation has been formed to build the unique artery, which will be called the Riverlake Belt Conveyor Lines. Cost during the three years it will take in building is estimated at $210,000,000, but, its backers say, it will save firms in the rich industrial area from $20,000,000 to $45,000,000 a year in freight costs. This "railroad of tomorrow" will be the longest belt conveyor in the world. Running side by side in the main line will be two belts, one going south from Lorain on Lake Erie to a point on the Ohio River near East Liverpool, O., and the other going north between these two terminals. The southbound belt will carry iron ore and limestone from lake ore boats. The northbound belt will carry coal. One-way spurs will connect steel mills in Cleveland and

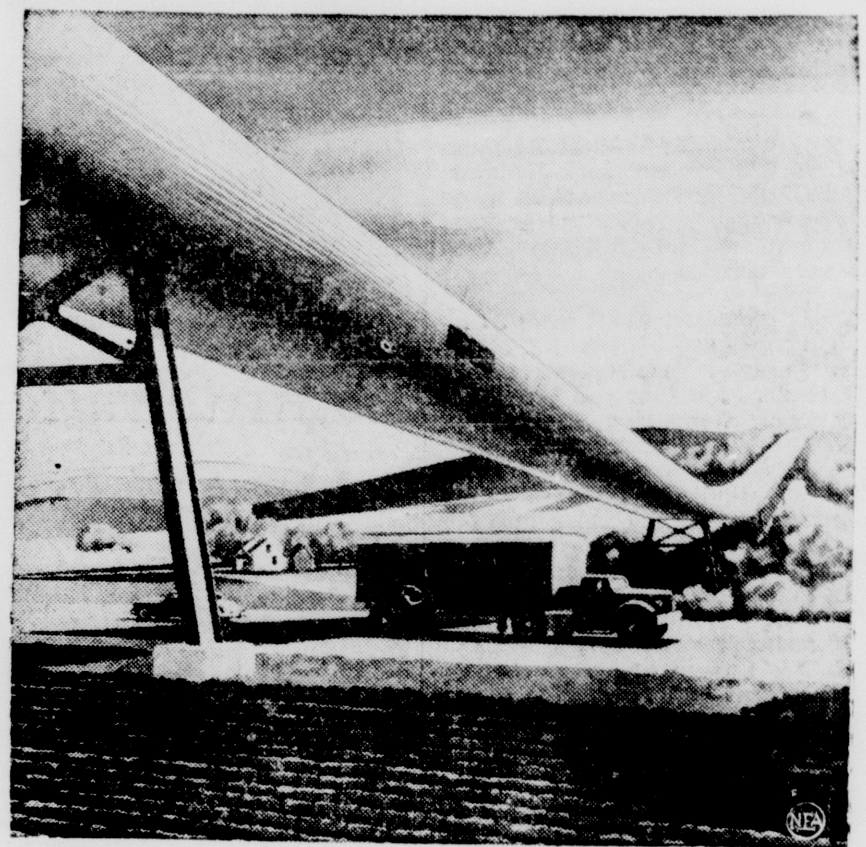

This is how the Lorain terminal will look when in operation, with iron ore being unloaded from a Great Lakes ore carrier. Some of the ore goes directly to the southbound belt. Other ore is stockpiled on the dock against winter, when the lakes are frozen over, insuring an even year-around flow to steel mills.

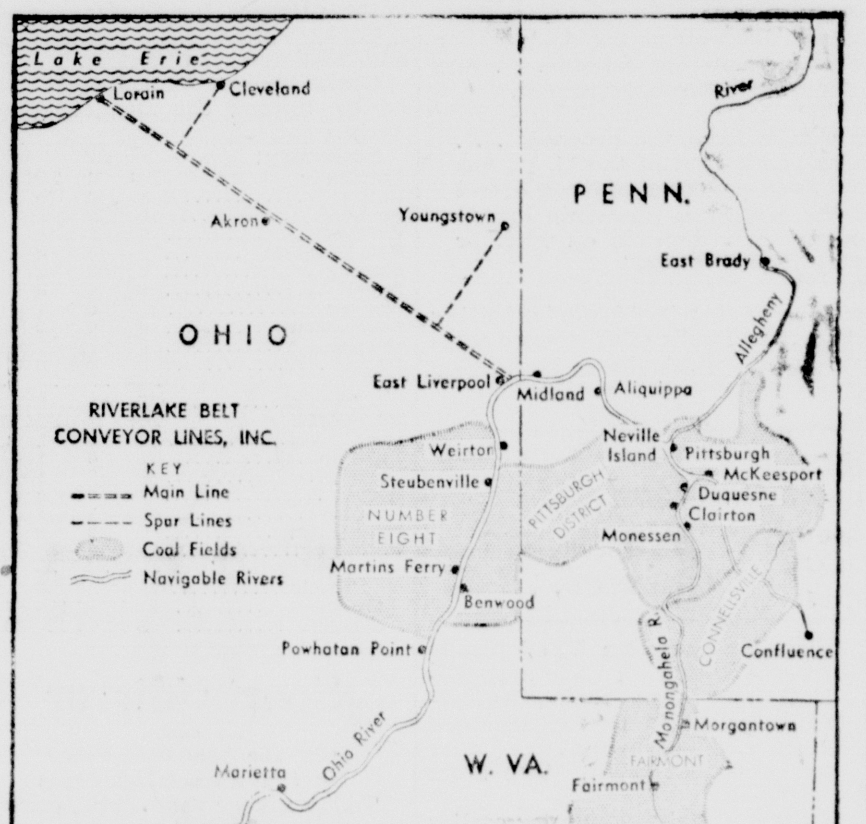

Inside the 18-foot wide overhead steel gallery, the two belts run side by side. There will be space in-between for maintenance men to walk, checking the operation. Shown here is a typical transfer point, where northbound coal and southbound iron ore go from one of 172 separate "flights," or stages, to another.

Youngstown with the main line. The purpose of the Riverlake Lines is to reduce the cost of shipping coal and iron ore to steel mills, since railroad freight rates are higher than the estimated belt conveyor charges. H. B. Stewart, Jr., president of the Akron, Canton and Youngstown Railroad, who announced the plan, pointed out that the conveyor line would charge, for example, a maximum of $1.23 for moving a ton of coal from the southern terminal to Cleveland, against railroad charges of $2.29 a ton. The electrically-operated belt line would have a total capacity of 52,000,000 tons annually, although it could operate effectively with a minimum cargo volume of 30,000,000 tons—15,000,000 each of coal and iron ore. Stewart predicted that the Riverlake Lines would attract new industry to the region. He said that plans for construction are in the advanced stage, with many belting, construction, transportation and electrical engineers working on the scheme.

The elevated conveyor would be built high enough so that there would be sufficient clearance as it passes over roads, railroad tracks and other obstacles. It would be solid steel, so that operation would not be curtailed during severe weather, and to eliminate loss from spilling and pilfering.

The map shows how the Riverlake lines would cut across Ohio, linking Lake Erie with the Ohio River. The lines will be able to handle 3400 tons of coal, or 5400 tons of heavier ore, an hour, and it would take 15 hours and 14 minutes for one ton to go from one terminal to the other.

S. P. REID PASSES AWAY

Death Severs Marriage Ties Of 62 Years

Solomon P. Reid, 84, retired master mechanic on the M. & L. S. Railway, died early Tuesday morning at his home at 132 South Chippewa avenue. He had been in declining health for a number of years. His death severed marriage ties of sixty-two years. Mr. Reid was born in Ontario, Canada on April 30, 1864 and came to this country when a youth of 18, settling first at Deckerville, where on May 26, 1886 he was married to Miss Emma Cline. Coming here in 1898, he entered the employ of the M. & L. S. Railway, and for many years was master mechanic with that system, retiring in 1935. He was for many years a member of the Odd Fellows lodge and a member of the First Baptist church, serving as one of the church officers for several years. Surviving him are his widow, Emma; three sons, Norman, Lady-smith, Wis.; Stanley, Royal Oak; and Maurice, Manistique; two daughters, Mrs. Alva Wilcox, Royal Oak; Mrs. Nina Trygg, Chippewa Falls, Wis.; a brother, W. J. Reid, Flint; two sisters, Mrs. Lizzie Benway, Ann Arbor; Mrs. Carrie Hiner, Baltimore, Md.; and 23 grandchildren. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at the Morton Funeral Home with the Rev. Paul Sobel officiating. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery. Friends may call at the Morton Funeral home up to the time of the funeral.

BROWSER'S LUCK—Dr. Walter Heil, director of the M. H. de Young museum, San Francisco, was browsing through a New York art dealer's shop and spotted this marble statue of a reclining boy. It had been in the shop, unidentified, for 25 years. Dr. Heil bought it at a low price. Tests proved it to be the work of Andrea del Verrocchio, famous 15th century Florentine sculptor, teacher of Leonardo da Vinci. Fewer than 20 pieces of his work have been located to date.

NEW MILK LAW DRAFT FINISHED

Council To Consider Measure Monday

The committee recently appointed to draft a new ordinance regulating the sale of milk in the city completed its work Monday evening and the measure will be submitted to the city council for consideration at its regular meeting Monday evening. The measure is virtually the same as a model one prepared by the joint committee of authorities on the subject from the state department of public health, the state department of agriculture and other government agencies. The measure, while not drastically changing anything in the milk ordinance in force in the city, is explained as "having more teeth in it," particularly in the matter of enforcement of sanitation, bacteria count, source of supply etc. The committee, while refraining from expressing any opinion on the measure, discussed freely the various points. The committee followed the suggestions of the model ordinance with but a few alterations made necessary by the local situation and one other respect which is likely to be controversial when the council takes it up for consideration. The controversial measure would require that the local milk supply be secured from an area within a fifteen mile radius of the city. In cases of an acute milk shortage, a special may be granted to go beyond this limit. The clause was submitted by the committee without comment.

Handy Hands Extension Club Holds Meeting

Members of the "Handy Hands" Extension Club held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Henry Archey, 412 Delta Avenue, on Monday evening. A delicious dinner was served at 6:30 p. m. by Mrs. Archey and Mrs. Richard Popour, project leaders. The current lesson, "Oven Meals" was demonstrated by the leaders who prepared the dinner according to instructions received from Miss Victoria Brust, home demonstration agent of Marquette. Mrs. Archey and Mrs. Popour attended the Leader Training Session at the Manistique Township hall, Wednesday, Feb. 16th. Other members present were Mrs. John Olsen, chairman, Mrs. Rueben Peterson, Mrs. Leo Popour, Mrs. William Bellville, Mrs. Fred Davis, Jr., Mrs. Gerard Deloria, Mrs. Clarence Whitman, Mrs. Henry Chandonais, Mrs. Ole Edvardson, Mrs. Emery Rieckhoff, and Mrs. Matilda McPhail. Guests were Mrs. William Maxwell of Thompson, Mrs. Arthur Allen, Mrs. Carl Anderson, Mrs. Albert Schubring, Mrs. John McNamara and Mrs. Opal Stuart of Manistique.

TO HOLD RITES FOR WAR HERO

Vernon Dixon Remains To Arrive Thursday

A Manistique boy who lost his life while fighting with the American forces in the Far East, is being brought home for burial. Private Vernon Dixon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Dixon, North Fourth street, lost his life on Leyte Island on December 24, 1944, and his remains, with a military escort will arrive here Thursday morning. Funeral services will be held in the afternoon at the Morton Funeral Home at 2:30 o'clock and graveside rites with military honors will be held at Fairview cemetery. The Rev. S. B. Dickinson will conduct the services at the funeral home. Vernon was born in Thompson on Nov. 18, 1912 and lived in Manistique most of his life. Entering military service he held a rank of Private in Co. B 724 M. P. battalion. Surviving him are his parents, eight brothers, Lloyd and Melvin, Milwaukee; Donald, George, Emerson, Gerald, Delano and Cletus, of Manistique; four sisters, Lela Bowers, Milwaukee; Mrs. Alice Woods, Mrs. Alma Messer and Mrs. Allene Messer, all of Manistique.

School Instructor Extols Virtues Of George Washington

George Washington was "First in the hearts of his countrymen" not only because he was "First in war and first in peace," but because he, in his life exemplified ideal American citizenship, Bruce Sidebottom, told students of Manistique high school at a special program honoring our first president Tuesday afternoon. Washington was painstaking, thrifty, dependable and forthright, said the speaker. He was great either in victory or defeat, he harbored no grudges against those who strove against him and because of his utter unselfishness we are a nation of free people today. He could have been king, had he so chosen, but he refused the honor because he didn't wish to lord it over his fellowmen. The program was enhanced by two beautiful violin numbers by Iggy Babladelis, accompanied by his brother Nickey at the piano. A Washingtonian touch was also imparted by eight young people dancing the minuet.

Williams May Pick Eight Long-Range Study Commissions

Lansing, Michigan (AP)—Eight special study commissions for long-range state planning are being considered by Governor Williams.

The plans were revealed as Williams said he would ask for a "significant," but undisclosed, increase in the appropriation to the governor's office for special commissions. The governor said the sum had been set at $5,000 a year in recent years, but that in 1937-38 and 1938-39 the grant had been $25,000 a year.

Williams said he was considering study commissions in the field of higher education, the state's services and expenditure, state aid to local governments, the state and local tax structure, youth problems, reappointment, recreational development, and medical services in the state.

The study commissions probably will be bi-partisan and include members of the legislature and state agencies, he said.

Eliasohn Leaves Parole Board Job

Lansing, (AP)—John H. Eliasohn of Ludington and East Lansing, who has been a member of the State Parole Board for more than 11 years, announced Monday he was resigning March 31.

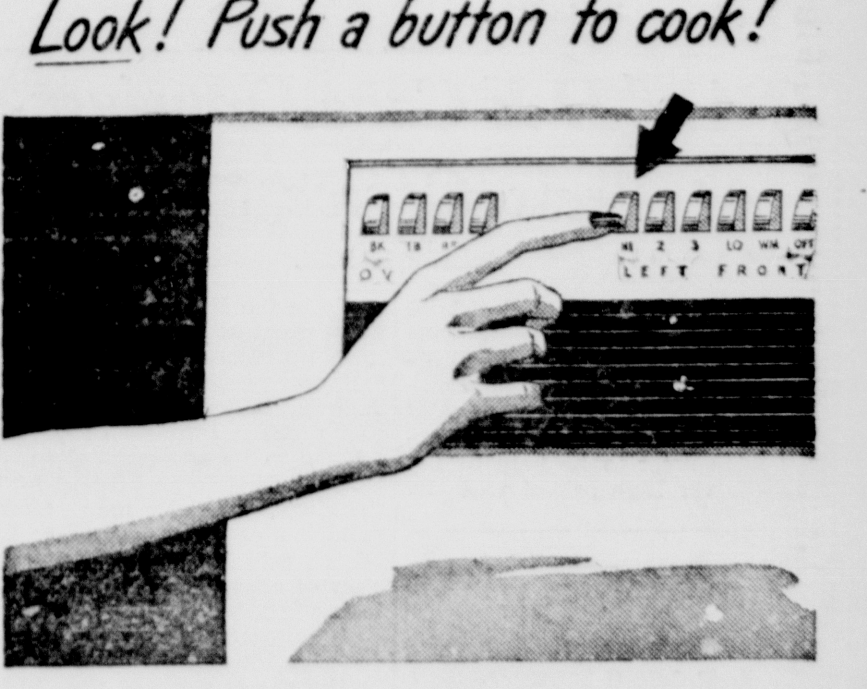

Eliasohn, who is the present chairman of the board, said he planned to enter the private practice of law in Detroit.

In his letter of resignation to Corrections Commissioner Ernest C. Brooks, Eliasohn said, "if I am ever to return to the law practice, it is best for my family's interest that I do so now, rather than later in life."

Eliasohn is the only member of the Parole Board who has served since its creation in 1937.

BOWLING

By JAMES G. WARD
Sports Editor

That deep moan you heard on West Ludington street the other day was Austin Stegath still thinking about firing a bowling ball between the 3-10 without hitting either pin. He did it!

This is how: On the first ball, the No. 10 pin was pushed almost off the alleys but a pesky pin in the gutter kept it upright and still standing. When Austin tried to pick up the exaggerated split, his ball went right between the 3-10.

That old southpaw master of the lanes, Nick Deviley, pulled an Andy Varipapa on the boys in the Escanaba Classic. He cleaned up the 3-5-10 by spanking the No. 5 pin off the back cushion and back on the alley to knock down the 3 and 10.

Some wag asked Nick to do it again because he (the wag) wasn't looking the first time, but Deviley said he was too busy. Other split artists in the classic were Bill Hanson 4-10 and Augie Gafner, the 3-10-8.

No 600's last week but take a gander at these 200-plus counts: Greg Schneller 225, John Boyle 208, Bill Kraiger 200, Ed Moersch 208, Don Feller 212-211, Bill Richards 202, Everett Cole 220, Pete Christensen 200, Moose Smithwick 204, Arvid Isaacson 221, Bill Bougie 212, Mel Bertrand 238, Harry Needham 208 and Augie Gafner 221.

Escanaba Paper Mill keglers who came through on their last outing were Chester Schram 205, Don Estebo 202, Lloyd Baker 212, Bill Kraiger 213 and George Milkovich 202-200.

Stamness copped top honors in the Manistique Brault's Women's league first half with 23 wins and 16 losses. Lauerma's placed second with 22-17, Brault's third with 17-19 and Paul Bunyan was in the cellar with 13-23. Geraldine Gorsche had high average of 159 and along with it top individual game and match of 201 and 567.

Members of the winning team (Stamness) are Kay Jenkins, the captain, Evelyn Lofgren, Elsa Ekstrom, Frances Nelson, Florence Pawley and Josephine Buech.

Art Legault gave his mates in Holy Name Society league in Gladstone something to shoot at when he posted a 615 on 21-191-212. Walter Lund hit 203, Jim Kennedy rapped a 235 and Tom Gerovac connected for 206. Harold DuRoy brought in the 5-10 and Francis Weingartner helped his score by converting the 5-7.

In the Gladstone Twilight league, Marie Hendrickson made a spare out of the 5-7-8 and Josephine Kinkella did likewise with the 5-10. High individual game scores were 179 by Marion Peterson, 171 by Verna Verhamme and 173 by Sophia VanDaele.

Alice Kvam spiced play in the Escanaba Women's Minor circuit by converting the 5-7 and 5-10 in one game. Lois Day made her bid by bringing in the 4-7-10. Idabelle Bink was high for the night with a fine 177.

Blanche Christie posted a neat 184 and Lil Schwartz was right proud of a 3-7-10 pickup in the Escanaba Elks Monday 7 p. m. group. Anna Mae Joslyn was equally happy about a 5-7-10 pickup in the Wednesday 9 p. m. group there.

Honor bowlers among Escanaba women were Alida Dupont 203, Fern Stacey 196 and 179, Dotty Lewis 189, Shirley Baker 187, Edna Reynolds 184, Bunny Moersch 183, Naomi Lee 181 and Lucille Raack 178.

Mel Nyquist just missed a triplete in the Escanaba Delta. He hit 164-164-163. The previous week, he had 178-162-164. So, you see, he had three consecutive league 164's but not on the same night.

Hilmer Johnson was the only 200 bowler in the Delta. That's it — 200 right on the nose. But look at this lineup of split artists: Bob Moreau, Bill Henderson and Ed Rudness 3-10, Jim Frost 5-10, Joe Heirman 6-10, Derlin Remington and Hilmer Johnson 8-10, Don McKie 6-7-10, Les Kleiman 3-5-10 and Al Ness and Ben Douglas 5-7.

In the Escanaba City league, you may point with pride to John Schiska for his 227 and John Lasnoski for picking up the 5-10.

King pins in the Escanaba Major wheel were Ed Brown 232, Ernie Vanlerberghe 200, Tony Orzel 214, Ron Peterson 211, Greg Schneller 200, Gil Kangas 210, Harold Myers 212 and Arvid Isaacson 204. Successful split converters were Bill Hanson, twice on the 4-7-9, Jim Fitzpatrick and Jack Beck the 8-10.

Anne Maki made use of a 192 to fashion a 500 series recently, and Amelia Perham brought in the 4-5-7 in the Gladstone Women's Midnight circuit.

Hearken back for a moment to the Escanaba Classic where we call your attention to Secretary Bill Puckelwart's 206. On the same night, Greg Schneller fashioned a 615 series with the help of a 245 single, and other 200-plussers were Everett Cole 213, Joe Rademacher 215, Mike O'Brien 222, Bill Bougie 210, Nick Deviley 202, Tony Hemil 205 and Johnny Boyle 221.

C And D-E Cage Drawings At Press Office Saturday

Drawing for the Class C district high school basketball tournament to be held in William Bonifas gym here under the sponsorship of St. Joseph's parochial school and for the Class D-E district cage meet to be held in the Rapid River high school will be made in the Escanaba Daily Press news room at 10 a. m. Saturday, it was announced this morning.

Father Stephen Schneider, St. Joseph's athletic director, said he had notified officials of the nine schools to be represented in the Class C meet to be present for the drawings, and No man Slough, principal of Rapid River high school, said he had invited officials of schools in the D-E meet to participate in the drawings.

Announcement of the pairings for each tournament will be made in the sports page of the Saturday, February 28, issue of the Escanaba Daily Press.

Gladstone and St. Joseph's will participate in the Class C tournament here. The Escanaba Eskymos are slated to meet Stephenson in the first round of play in the Class B district tournament. In Menominee, the Menominee Maroons have a first-round bye and will meet the Stephenson-Escanaba winner in the finale.

Hoover Commission Urge Overhaul Of State Department

Washington, D. C., (P) — The Hoover commission has urged a top-to-bottom overhauling of the state department to remove "flaws" in the handling of the nation's foreign relations.

The commission laid down a list of 22 recommendations in a report which said the reins over this country's dealings abroad—now spread out all over the government—should be concentrated squarely in President Truman's hands.

While some of the group's suggestions were directed to Congress, most were aimed straight at the state department. That agency, the commission declared, has fallen to "low esteem" with lawmakers, the press, the public and many of its own officials.

The main reason for this, the report said, is the department's postwar work overload.

The 12-man bipartisan commission on government organization is headed by former President Herbert Hoover.

As vice chairman, Secretary of State Acheson helped draft the recommendation for improving the department he came to head.

Big Discount Given By Kaiser-Frazer: Trade-In Bonus $200

Detroit, (P)—Kaiser-Frazer Corp. will increase its dealer discounts effective April 1, bringing them to a more competitive level. The company confirmed that the new dealer discounts will range from 24 to 28 per cent. This is an increase of about six per cent on various models.

Assembly lines at the big Willow Run plant currently are idle while inventory and retolling operations are under way for the production of two new utility models. Production probably will get under way on March 14.

Also to go into production soon after that date will be K-F's new Kaiser Virginian. The new vehicle is a luxury sports model that looks like a convertible, but has an all-steel top surfaced with nylon.

Kaiser-Frazer dealer discounts heretofore have been among the lowest in the industry. In addition to the discount increase, dealers have been notified that effective Feb. 24 and until March 31, a temporary $200 trading allowance will be made to dealers on each 1949 Kaiser or Frazer car sold at retail from the dealer's stock.

Under this plan the dealer is allowed $200 on the purchase of a replacement car from the factory, if the purchase is made within seven days after the date of retail delivery.

The plan is similar in effect to plans used by some car makers before the war.

Stranded Fishermen At Muskegon Saved By Coast Guardsmen

Muskegon, Mich., (P) — Coast guardsmen rescued 11 fishermen Saturday who were left stranded when ice on Lake Muskegon suddenly began to break up.

Chief George Piotrowski warned Sunday that the ice continued unsafe after strong, easterly winds and warm weather started huge ice blocks moving through the channel toward Lake Michigan.

A number of fish shanties were adrift in large gaps of open water in Muskegon lake, Piotrowski said.

Coast Guard crews picked up the stranded fishermen Saturday in row boats and a power launch and ferried them ashore after gaps of as much as 20 feet had separated them from safety.

Tokyo Intelligence Chief Set To Face Spy Report Lawsuit

Tokyo, Japan, (P) — Maj. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby, chief of General MacArthur's intelligence staff, Monday offered to waive immunity to "legal or any other action" as a result of the Sorge spy report.

Miss Agnes Smedley, American writer, was named as a Soviet agent by the spy report, which was prepared under General Willoughby's direction. Miss Smedley denied the charge and threatened to sue General MacArthur if he would waive immunity.

In Detroit, Miss Smedley's attorney, O. John Rogge, said:

"If it's true the general has waived immunity and is taking responsibility for the report, he can get a New York lawyer right now because we're certainly going to sue."

Willoughby placed responsibility on Washington for releasing the spy report against the wishes of General MacArthur.

He made his remarks in a special statement obviously intended to answer an Army public relations officer's remarks that the Army lacked proof Miss Smedley was a Russian spy.

Father Faints When New Baby Arrives

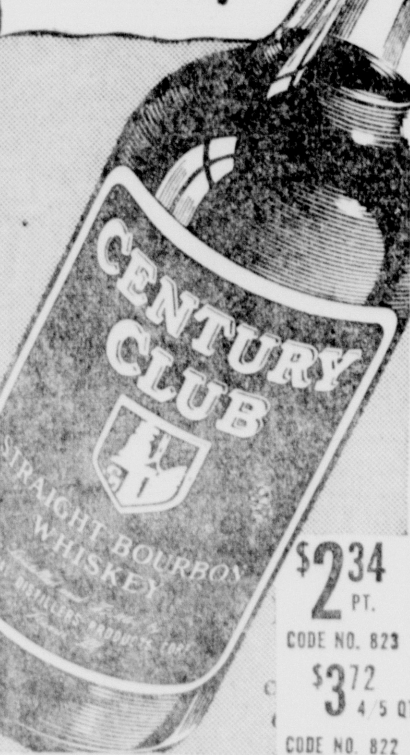

Cambridge, O., (P)—Mother and son are doing nicely thank you—but the father, well, only fair.

That was the report from St. Francis hospital after Mrs. Wilbur Archer presented her husband, a 34-year-old World War II veteran with a six pound, six ounce baby boy.

Archer fainted when a nurse showed him the baby. His head struck the floor and he required 17 stitches in his face and chin.

Starch was made commercially from corn for the first time in this country in 1842.
